Huron hosts concert

As a continuation of Special Events in the Huron High School Auditorium, the Wyandotte Orpheus Men's Chorus, directed by Cathy Kane, will perform the annual Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 11, at 3 p.m.

The Orpheus is now in its 51st year and is one of the oldest performing choruses in the Detroit area.

The admission is $1.50 with children 12 and under free. For further information call the Community Education Office at 782-1505 Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 9:45 p.m. and on Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Schools, rec, seek volunteers

The Romulus Recreation Department and the Romulus Community school system have teamed up to sponsor a Youth Basketball League for boys and girls ages 9 through 16.

Registration will be $20 per child and may be paid at the Recreation Office from 5 to 7 p.m. on Wed., Dec. 7.

The registration fee covers all costs and will also include a T-shirt which the player may keep at the end of the season. Adult coaches and administrative help are also needed.

To volunteer, please contact the Rec. Department at 941-0666, extension 254.

'Ball' tickets are going fast

If you're planning to attend the city's Seventh Annual Inaugural Celebration, better get your tickets.

The ceremony will be staged beginning at 6:30 p.m., Friday, Dec. 16 in the Ballroom of the Romulus Hilton Hotel, located at Wickham Road at the I-94 Expressway.

The program will include a reception at 6:30 p.m.; dinner at 7:30 p.m. and dancing at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $30 per couple and are available by telephone for 941-0666 or by contacting any of the recently elected officials.

Santa's here

Santa Claus flew in from the North Pole Friday night and made a perfect and happy landing in Romulus where more than 500 persons were on hand to greet him. The Jolly Ole Santa participated in a program which included singing Christmas carols, lighting the Christmas Tree and enjoying a wide variety of cookies, donuts, coffee and soft drinks. The Romulus High School Band performed, while the Brownie and Girl Scouts led the community singing. Mayor Beverly McAnally welcomed Santa and the hundreds of residents then helped "Special Child," Jennifer Sands toss the switch that lit the Christmas Tree. The helicopter, used to transport Santa and Christmas Carol from the North Pole to Romulus was provided by Jet Services of Romulus.

City awaits good word

Where's Post Office?

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry is continuing to put pressure on the city's administration and Congressman William Ford for some answers on why the proposed Post Office for Romulus has been delayed.

In the council's first ever Monday night session, Councilman Raspberry told his colleagues and Mayor Beverly McAnally "that we need a status report, in writing, from Congressman Ford's office on where we are with this (Post Office)."

"They were supposed to start the Post Office last June and ground hasn't even been broken," Raspberry continued. "Everything this far has been heresay. Nothing has been put in writing and I believe it's time for them to be honest with us and the city of Romulus."

"Everything thus far has been heresay. Nothing has been put into writing, and I believe it's time for them to be honest with us and the City of Romulus."
Jimmie Raspberry

Mayor McAnally reminded Raspberry that council had directed her office to communicate with Congressman Ford's office last week. She said that she had done this.

"And in your packet this week you will find that letter which we directed to our legislator's office. However, we have not received a written response. We are waiting."

Raspberry found the letter in the Mayor's Report portion of the packet. He appeared satisfied.

The letter to Congressman Ford from Mayor McAnally stressed the importance of providing information (about the Post Office) at the earliest possible convenience.

The letter to Ford begins:

"The Romulus City Council at its regular meeting on November 22, 1983, directed that we contact you for an official update, in writing, on the status of the proposed Post Office.

"Although I have been contacted by your office and informed by telephone of most recent developments, the City Council preferred hearing from you directly.

"Please provide this information at your earliest convenience.

"If I can be of any assistance to you, please do not hesitate to contact my office," Mayor McAnally's letter concluded.

Recreation commission in quandary over Kennedy Park

The Romulus Recreation Commissioners are in a quandary over what steps, short of posting a "closed" sign, they can take to prevent further acts of vandalism at one of the city's more popular after dark teen hang-outs, Kennedy Park.

The 5-acre park, located at Five Points, has attracted many teens and young adults who, after drinking alcoholic beverages, later take their frustrations out on city property, according to the commissioners.

Dennis Davidson, Parks and Recreation director, and members of the Recreation Commission, met in a rare session Monday night with City Council and city officials in the council chambers in hopes of resolving some of the problems.

The commissioners were urged to study the city ordinances and come back with some recommendations.

"We have some very concerned citizens, and we are concerned over what these youths are using the park for," Davidson told council. "There have been cases of illegal substances being used, alcoholic beverages and some of the facilities including four picnic tables and a portajohn have been vandalized.

"We have never made threats like shutting down the park. But, presently, commissioners are in a quandary of what we can legally do to resolve the problems at the park. This is why we are here tonight," Davidson said, "asking direction and guidance from council."

Recreation Commissioner Jerry Kittle said he believed that most of the problems are caused "by youths from neighboring communities like Belleville, Huron and Wayne who find parks in their cities closed after dark, and come here to stir up problems."

"We are in a quandary of what we can legally do to resolve this problem at the park. This is why we are here tonight."

Councilman Junior Block pointed out that there were no legitimate reasons why "those kids should be there (in the park) after dark. I feel we can solve this problem by posting a 'No Parking' sign after 6 p.m."

However, Block's colleague, Alan Lambert felt that "the city shouldn't take the parks away from the kids."

"The parks are for all of us," Lambert continued. "Let's not take them away because of the few who violate the rules. If we had better supervision, then they couldn't take over."

Councilman Barry Baumann depicted the park as a haven of vice where sexual acts took place in the open and that illegal drinking is common.

"I used to live near the park. You can hear the glaring sounds of transistor radios well into the night and the early morning hours," Baumann continued. "There are people who are using the picnic tables for beds. The first thing you see in the park is the filth. Something must be done."

Baumann also believed the problems are caused by "outsiders" who could be stopped if the city strengthened its present ordinance.

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry said that citizens should utilize the city's "Secret Witness" program to report any and all serious wrongdoings.

"I believe this is a case where the commissioners should meet with the police and administration to see what needs to be done. There are always going to be a few bad eggs out there who will spoil it for the law-abiding citizens.

"I don't think we're going to ever abolish crime, but we certainly can work toward holding it down. Maybe the police department should consider sending a plain clothes officer in there to clean out the mess," Raspberry concluded.

Mike Wojtylko, a member of the recreation commission, also believed that restricting parking in the area adjacent to the park would help eliminate the problem.

Councilman William Wadsworth, who is a Wayne County Sheriff, said that he has "dealt with these people before, and they appear to be the same kids. If they are involved in drinking they should be kicked out of the park; if they are involved in anything illegal, they should be arrested."

Mayor Pro Tem, Mary Ann Banks, pointed out that "closing the park" would only move the problem from one area to another.

"If you kick them out of the park, then they'll go somewhere else. They'll move to a nearby store parking lot, so that's not solving the problem. We have had these types of problems before at other parks and I believe that we have a police department that can handle the situation once the problem area is identified," she offered.

The five-acre Kennedy Park is opened from 7 a.m. until 10 p.m. Host of the commissioners later agreed that "if the hours for the park were established from sun-up to sun-set, some of the problems would be resolved."

No evictions during holidays

Keeping in step with the holidays and tradition, District Court Judges James B. Stone and Henry Zaborowski today announced that during the month of December the court will suspend legal action against those persons whose wages are scheduled to be garnished and also will not issue evictions from residential real estate.

The judges issued an administrative order "that no order of garnishment of wages shall be entered in this court from the beginning of business on Dec. 9 through the beginning of business on Dec. 23, 1983.

"It was further ordered that no order of eviction from the possession of residential real estate, or seizures under Claim and Delivery Procedure shall be entered in this court from Dec. 16, 1983."

A taxing time

As she nears the last of Van Buren Township's 6800 tax statements, account clerk Denise Partridge can still smile bravely. Area residents will get their turn to smile when they receive the welcome (?) statements in the mail this week.

Romulus High senior qualifies for state mathematics finals

Christopher A. Pennington, a senior at Romulus Senior High, finished in the top 5 percent on Part I of the 27th annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition and is among the 1,000 Michigan students who will compete in the final examination. The final exam is scheduled for today (Wed., Dec. 7).

Christopher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pennington, 34808 Stewart Drive, Romulus.

The competition is sponsored by the Michigan Section of the Mathematical Association of America and is designed to foster a wider interest in mathematics to focus attention on the necessity for mathematical training in most professions and trades, and to identify and provide scholarships for capable mathematics students in the State of Michigan.

The approximately 100 winners of the competition will be honored at the Awards Program to be held at Alma College on Saturday, February 25, 1984, with half of the winners receiving college scholarships.

These scholarships totaled $15,425 in last year's competition. The competition funds include contributions from the Burroughs Corporation, Michigan Bell, the Kuhlman Corporation, and the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Russell K. Woinowsk, Department Head, Math Dept. has served as the high school supervisor for 38 students competing in the examination.

Belleville, police ink contract

After six months of negotiations, Belleville police have signed a new contract granting them a 5 percent pay increase, dental coverage, and key changes in retirement and lay-off policy.

Represented by Teamsters Local 129, the officers have forwarded the new contract for final approval to union officials in Flint. The new two-year contract will be retroactive to June 30.

Union steward Vern Taylor said the six officers represented by the union had made "important concessions" in salary in exchange for other benefits. "Originally, we were asking for a 15 percent salary increase," he said.

The 5 percent increase raises an officer's base salary from $8.96 an hour to $9.41.

Dental coverage is a major new gain for the union, with the city paying for 60 percent of the plan and the employee assuming the remaining 40 percent.

Another change allows officers to retire at 55 or with 25 years of service, as opposed to the current minimum age of 62 or 30 years of service.

A change in lay-off policy prohibits full-time officers from being replaced by police reserves. Another change provides $3.00 meal allowances to officers making prolonged court appearances.

In addition, a "light duty" status goes into effect. Injured or incapacitated officers will be allowed to work at clerical or less physically demanding jobs until they can resume normal duties.

Taylor said the officers "weren't entirely happy" with the agreement. "But then, you don't usually get all that you want with these things," he said.

"In addition to higher pay, we asked for optical coverage, which we didn't get," he said.

The officers began negotiations with city officials in May. The Belleville City Council approved the new contract at its November 23 meeting.

Bad check, narcotics charged in arrest

Two adults were arrested and charged with passing stolen checks and possessing narcotics at Canton's De Swan Motel Sunday afternoon.

Ypsilanti resident Eulondia Broughton, 28, was charged with uttering and publishing after she gave a stolen check to a desk clerk as payment for a room at the motel.

Canton Police officers, responding to a call from a motel employee, arrived at the motel with search warrants for the subjects' car and room, where they discovered amphetamines and valium.

Broughton is in Wayne County Jail awaiting an examination scheduled for Dec. 5. The uttering and publishing offense carries a maximum sentence of 14 years.

James Berleson, 23, of Belleville, is in Canton Police custody awaiting arraignment on the possession of narcotics charge, a felony carrying a maximum two-year sentence.

Sumpter couple die in blaze

An elderly Sumpter Township couple died within a few feet of each other when fire swept through a house described by township police as a "fire trap."

Alphonso Price, 75, and his wife Lula Mae Price, 87, died on November 30 in their house at 27199 Sumpter Road. Firefighters discovered the victims' bodies at 8:57 a.m.

The body of Alphonso Price was found in the doorway of a back bedroom. Just ten feet away, his wife was discovered on the living room floor.

Smoke inhalation was the apparent cause of death, according to Michigan State Police Fire Marshall Vern Erickson. While certain that the death was accidental, Erickson said Friday that the cause of the fire was still unknown.

"We are looking at a space heater as a possible source of the fire," he said. The space heater was in the living room where authorities say they suspect the fire started.

Erickson emphasized, "There's no reason to suspect this was anything other than an accident."

The couple may have been unable to flee the home because of cluttered conditions. "There were accumulated tons of junk and debris in that home," said Corporal Wanda Elden of the Sumpter Police. "There's no other way to describe it."

"It was a virtual fire trap," she added.

Price was a former worker in the River Rouge plant, according to Elden.

Surviving the couple is an adopted daughter Patricia Hudson Kearney of unknown address, police say. A cousin, Nina Green of Southfield, and a nephew, Willie Henry of Maybee, Michigan, have told police they were raised by the couple "like members of the family."

All area schools are also helping in the drive.

City buys 4 trucks

With councilman Jimmie Raspberry casting the lone "no" vote, City Council Monday night approved the purchase of four dump trucks.

Council picked Crova Sales & Service to supply the four trucks, although the company wasn't the low bidder.

Cost of the four trucks is $46,034.

Mayor Beverly McAnally explained that the reason the administration recommended Crova's "is because it is a local company." "When the bids are close, the city's past practice has been to accept the bid from the local firm," she added.

Raspberry argued that he cast the "no" vote because "no one has justified the need for the vehicles."

'Working together'

Those citizens who were fortunate to have attended the city's Inauguration Ceremonies recently were treated to a wide variety of delights after the ceremonies. The food and drink were provided by the seniors who, in turn, were treated by the city and Mayor Beverly McAnally (seated, third from left) to lunch at McDonald's. The large group of senior volunteers included Edna Maciejewski, Anna Asby, Susie Whitworth, Donnie Gray, Lydia Kyak, Alberta Leach, Rita Soave, Dorothy Icenagle, Eva Harrison, Cell Harrison, Cell Renke, Helen Bliznik, Margaret Staffeld, Louise Buczkowski, Barbara Schultz, Clayton Ransau, Florence Atchison and also Sarah Riley, Mary Wisniewski.

Mayor McAnally announces department realignments

Mayor Beverly McAnally announced Monday the appointments and re-appointments of city department heads.

Openings were created in the Building, Personnel, D.P.W. and Ordinance departments: David Paul, who has served as D.P.W. director for the past nine years, has been elevated to the position of Director of Building Safety.

Paul, an 18 year city veteran, will assume the duties of overseeing the Building Department and will also become involved in activities normally handled by the Industrial Co-Ordinator.

D.P.W. superintendent, Bob Plank, has been named the acting D.P.W. Director.

The new director of Ordinances and Animal Control is Tom Ellis.

Ellis, who has been self-employed for the past 10 years comes to the Ordinance Department with law enforcement training from Schoolcraft College and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Ellis has been a police reserve since 1976.

The Personnel Department will be under the direction of Marilyn Radford, a resident of the city for the past 13 years. Mrs. Radford, a former GM employee, has union experience with the Van Buren schools, and has been involved in many community organizations. She has been instrumental in several fund-raising projects for community needs.

"I feel this is just the first step toward a more efficient administration. As finances become available we will be able to fill other positions..."

The Mayor's Administrative Assistant is Betsey Brown. Ms. Brown began her employment with the city as a co-op student in the Clerk's Office in June of 1975.

In August of 1976 she became a full-time city employee, was appointed Deputy Treasurer in November of 1979 and now she moves into the position of the Mayor's Administrative Assistant.

Current department heads who have been re-appointed are: Pat Hogan, the Community Development Director and Dennis Davidson, the Director of Parks and Recreation.

Also re-appointed is Nita Laine, council secretary.

Other executive positions are contractual and will be presented to city council for consideration.

Mayor McAnally also announced the filling of the position of Administrative Receptionist by appointing Connie Madison. A 1978 graduate of Romulus High School, Madison has attended Oakland University and Henry Ford Community College where she majored in Political Science.

"I feel that this is just the first step toward a more efficient administration. As the finances become available, we will be seeking to fill other positions with highly qualified and talented people," said Mayor McAnally.

In other areas, City Treasurer John Lewkowicz has appointed Pat Geldmacher as his deputy Treasurer. Ms. Geldmacher also served as Mr. Lewkowicz' deputy from 1973-77.

Another new face is that of Pamela Morrison who has become City Clerk, Linda Choate's, administrative secretary. Pamela is a 1974 graduate of Romulus High School and a 1978 graduate of Western Michigan University where she obtained a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration. Morrison worked and resided in Dallas, Texas for the past five years and has just recently returned to her home town.

Romulus pursues housing for city's senior citizens

Picking up where they left off last month, the City Council resumed their debate for a second senior citizens housing complex in Romulus.

And leading the debate was Councilman Jimmie Raspberry, who has urged the city's administration to pursue "all avenues to receive funding for housing."

"This city is in dire need for housing for our seniors," Raspberry said, "and when you look around you at the cities of Inkster where there are three or four such projects and to Belleville and Wayne it is understandable why we, as a body, should continue to seek funds for this (housing)."

BARRY BAUMANN

"For the first time this nation has more senior citizens than it has teens."

Mary Ann Banks
Mayor Pro Tem

Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks pointed out that "for the first time in the history of this nation there are more senior citizens than teens."

"I agree with Mr. Raspberry, we should pursue this project until it bears fruit," Mrs. Banks said.

Mayor Beverly McAnally offered council a memorandum from Patrick A. Hogan, the Community Development Director. In the memorandum, Hogan states that an application for funding for senior housing has been approved.

"It should be pointed out, firstly, that an application for a HUD 202 senior housing loan prepared in conjunction with Wzacny & McKenna Associates for the Western V Community Conference has been approved..."

"Please note that this project is located in Belleville. Its purpose is to serve residents of the member communities of the Western V (Belleville, Huron, Romulus, Sumpter and Van Buren..."

"Secondly, attached is a letter I have sent to Leo Sklar of North Cranbrook and Associates the developer/owner of our existing senior housing project indicating our interest in establishing another project and requesting his consultation and advice toward that end..."

"In summary, financing for these types of developments has become extremely tight and very competitive. And the fact that we already have one project doesn't enhance our potential. But rest assured that every effort that can possibly be made and every avenue of potential funds available will be pursued," Hogan's memorandum concluded.

Should city housing commission be paid?

Should members of the Romulus Housing Commission be compensated for their work?

Councilman Barry Baumann believes they should, and believes "that to be only fair"

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry says "No" and backs the negative with the City Charter and an Attorney General ruling.

But Raspberry says he's willing to allow the city attorney to review the recently passed state law to permit compensating members of the commission.

Baumann informed Council Monday night that members of the Housing Commission should receive compensation for serving on the board. He had with him a recently passed law (Public Act 227, House Bill 4461) which would allow municipalities to pay the commissioners.

"I believe that it's only fair that we compensate these people for time and effort on the commission," Baumann reiterated to his colleagues. "These people run the public housing for this city and should receive some sort of compensation."

Baumann pointed out that it has only been in recent years that the city has not paid members of the commission.

"House Bill 4461 would remove the onus and allow an injustice to be corrected. These people must be paid," he said.

Raspberry replied that the laws of the state are specific and that there "is a attorney General ruling on this, and we should abide by it."

"However, if you feel that the corporate attorney may see it differently, I will await his opinion," Raspberry said."

Swearing in City Clerk Agnes Frisch (in photo above) issues the oath of office to Belleville's new mayor Howard Stinehour. The city's 12th mayor, Stinehour took center seat in council for the first time Monday night. He has been a council member for 10 years.

Cutbacks reflect on students' poor grades

By EVE SILBERMAN
ANP Staff Writer

The short school day, a highly mobile student body, and parental apathy are the main reasons for continued low performance of Van Buren's schools' students on Michigan's annual math and reading achievement tests, say school officials.

Recently released Michigan Education Assessment Program (MEAP) scores show Van Buren students continually placing in the bottom five or 10 of all 30 Wayne County school districts. The tests measure fourth, seventh, and tenth grade reading and math.

Only in 7th grade reading did a respectable 75 percent of students master the test objectives. The poorest showing was 10th grade math. Just 44.8 percent of district students mastered the math objectives — the third lowest figure in Wayne County.

Other results are: 4th grade math (70.0 percent), 4th grade reading (65.5 percent), 7th grade math (50.4 percent), and 10th grade reading (71 percent).

In a telephone interview from Lansing, MEAP state supervisor Ed Roebber said that "75 percent is what we consider acceptable. Ideally, we'd like to see scores of 100 percent. But no district reached that, though we did find many scores in the 80s and 90s."

The reading tests measure vocabulary, critical reading ability, literal comprehension and study skills, said Roebber.

The math objectives (which vary according to grade) include fractions, decimals, metric measurements, and equations.

Students must answer two out of three questions pertaining to a particular objective to gain credit, Roebber said. The test (which sets no time limit) has been administered to Michigan students since 1969.

School Superintendent Dr. Elvin Peets said he was "disappointed but not greatly surprised" by the results.

"We have two major things working against us right now," he said. "The five hour school day, and the fact that we just don't have the resources to do what we'd like to ensure a quality education."

Currently $334,000 in the red, the school district has operated on a five hour a day austerity program for the past three years. Larger class sizes and fewer course choices have been the result, say school officials.

Complicating the problem, Peets said, is the high turnover of Van Buren pupils. "It isn't unusual to see a 35 or 40 percent turnover each year at the elementary level," he said.

Research has shown that students from highly mobile districts test more poorly than those from more stable communities, the superintendent explained.

The exceptionally poor 10th grade math scores "reflect, to some extent, a nationwide pattern," Peets said. But he also added that teacher cutbacks in the junior high had probably hurt students also.

"For the past couple of years, we haven't had the money to group math students in separate basic and advanced classes,"

Peets said. "I think that really hurt our kids."

The superintendent added that the district had "juggled things around" this year to again offer the junior high math groupings.

Director of Instruction Doug Brown said that parental apathy towards education also contributed to the low test scores. "There's a whole value system involved," he said. "If parental and community expectations are high, the scores tend to reflect this."

School officials did find some comfort in minor gains in students' scores over the past several years. "There's been a slight but significant rise in scores since we started giving the test in 1974," Brown said.

Last year's scores, for example, showed increases in four of the six categories: a 3.7 rise in 4th grade math; a 2.9 rise in 7th grade math; a 1.9 rise in 7th grade reading, and a 3.2 rise in 10th grade reading.

In contrast, 4th grade reading scores dropped by 1.3 percent, and 10th grade math scores decreased by a marginal .8 percent.

Brown said the scores were "helpful" in planning the year's curriculum. "I get together with all the principals when these tests come out," he said, "and then they meet with their staff. If something on the test isn't being covered in the schools, we get on it."

Brown acknowledged that there was "quite a discrepancy between our scores and the state's average (ones). We're working now on putting more daily emphasis on math," he said. "We take those test results seriously. But, I don't know what the answer is."

Below are the 1983 Michigan Education Assessment Program results for Van Buren Township and three neighboring communities. Scores show the percentage of students who passed between 75 and 100 percent of the test objectives.

District	4th grade		7th grade		10th grade
	Math	Reading	Math	Reading	Math	Reading
Van Buren	70.0	65.5	50.4	76.0	44.8	71.6
Westland	81.0	72.9	63.7	78.6	57.1	75.7
Romulus	65.5	63.4	43.0	72.8	60.3	76.3

Carrier of the Week

Jenny Bozynski

Jenny Bozynski is proof that bigger isn't always better.

Chosen as the Carrier of the Week this week, Jenny has only 21 customers on her neighborhood route in Inkster, but has shown that type of service and dedication that subscribers really appreciate.

"I just try to get the paper to them on time and I try to always be on time," she said. "And I'd like to get as many customers as I could."

The 14-year-old is a ninth-grade student at Crestwood High School and has had her paper route for about one year.

Her favorite subject in school is math and among her hobbies she includes roller skating.

Jenny doesn't have any firm career plans just yet but would very much like to attend college. Right now, she confessed, she's saving her route money for Christmas gifts.

Her route takes her only about 15-20 minutes and provides some spending money, she said.

She is the daughter of John and Esther Bozynski of Sunningdale in Inkster.

Carriers of the Week are selected by the Associated Newspapers Circulation Department. Nominations are accepted at 729-4000 during regular business hours.

Always a main attraction

Santa's everywhere these days. And, last week the Jolly Ole Fellow appeared at the Romulus Library where pre-school children were treated to a Christmas Story and Party. The kids rekindled their friendship and, as usual, had a lot to tell him. Later in the evening, Santa was flown in by helicopter to take part in Romulus's annual Christmas Tree lighting ceremonies which attracted more than 700 persons, the largest crowd in recent years.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
By John Brimble

Experts from the "waste nothing" school of cooking have discovered crisply soured potato skins. Pare skins from scrubbed baking potatoes and saute in half-and-half corn oil and butter until crisp and brown. (Note: the rest of the potato, kept white and crisp in cold water, is great for french fries or pommes souffles.)

Whipping cream? You can add sugar anytime, but save the teaspoon of vanilla for the end.

Meatloaf the "No mess" way: place fixings in a plastic bag and mix by kneading the bag.

"Meal sharing" has enabled some western families to eat well and cook less. Each cook in turn makes one week-night meal and delivers portions to other families in the group. Ideal team has 4 to 5 families, they say.

Data on local farmers is sought

The U.S. Bureau of the Census will conduct a regular survey on employment and unemployment in this area during the week of December 12-17, 1983 according to Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit.

In addition to the usual questions on current employment, the December survey will include others concerning hired farm workers.

Some of the questions that will be asked concern the number of days hired farm workers did farm and nonfarm work, their wages for farm and nonfarm work, and the number of farm wage workers migrating to other counties and states to do farm work.

Households in this area are part of the sample of 72,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all U.S. households.

The monthly survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor and provides a continuous record of activity in the labor force. The October survey indicated that of the 111.8 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 101.9 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 8.8 percent, down from the 9.3 percent reported in September.

Make-ahead dessert uses ice cream-m-m

Southern Praline Pecan Roll, a beautiful cake roll covered with perfect pecans, provides a stunning holiday table focus for buffets or sit-down dinners. A nutty sponge cake layer is rolled up with Baskin-Robbins Butter Pecan Ice Cream, then spread with a brown sugar and bourbon topping and studded with pecan halves.

Start by preparing an egg white, nut batter laced with vanilla and maple flavorings. The batter is briefly baked in a jelly roll pan and then dusted with powdered sugar. Spread Butter Pecan Ice Cream evenly onto the cake and roll the cake from the long side. Freeze until firm. Add the bourbon/brown sugar topping and pecan halves for an unusual twist to a holiday yulelog dessert.

Another prize-winning recipe, Orange Cloud, is elegantly dressed in stemmed goblets as a light, refreshing finale to a holiday feast. Prepared with Baskin-Robbins French Vanilla Ice Cream resting in an orange-flavored, meringue-like "cloud" and topped with grated orange peel, the delicious desert can be made in 15 minutes, not including freezing time.

Southern Praline Pecan Roll

4 cups pecans (reserve 2 cups pecan halves and finely grind other 2 cups)
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
4 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon maple flavoring
½ cup powdered sugar (for dusting kitchen towel)
½ gallon Baskin-Robbins Butter Pecan or Pralines 'n Cream (R) Ice Cream

Topping

Line a jelly roll pan (15½" x 10½" x 1") with well-greased waxed paper. Combine ground pecans, flour and baking powder, set aside. In a large bowl, beat egg whites and cream of tartar until soft peaks form. Gradually add ½ cup granulated sugar and beat until stiff peaks form. Beat egg yolks and remaining ½ cup granulated sugar in a small bowl until thick and pale. Blend in vanilla and maple flavoring. Gently fold nut mixture into egg whites, then egg yolk mixture, mixing only until blended.

Spread batter in jelly roll pan and bake 12-15 minutes at 350 degrees or until top springs back when lightly touched. Cool slightly. Turn pecan roll out onto a powdered sugar-dusted kitchen towel. Peel off waxed paper. Cool completely.

Spread ice cream in an even layer on top of cake. Roll cake beginning with long side, using towel to guide roll and help keep it round and firm. Place seam side down, freeze.

Spread topping on frozen cake roll and press pecan halves in even rows over surface. Cover with plastic wrap and freeze until ready to serve. Makes 8-12 servings.

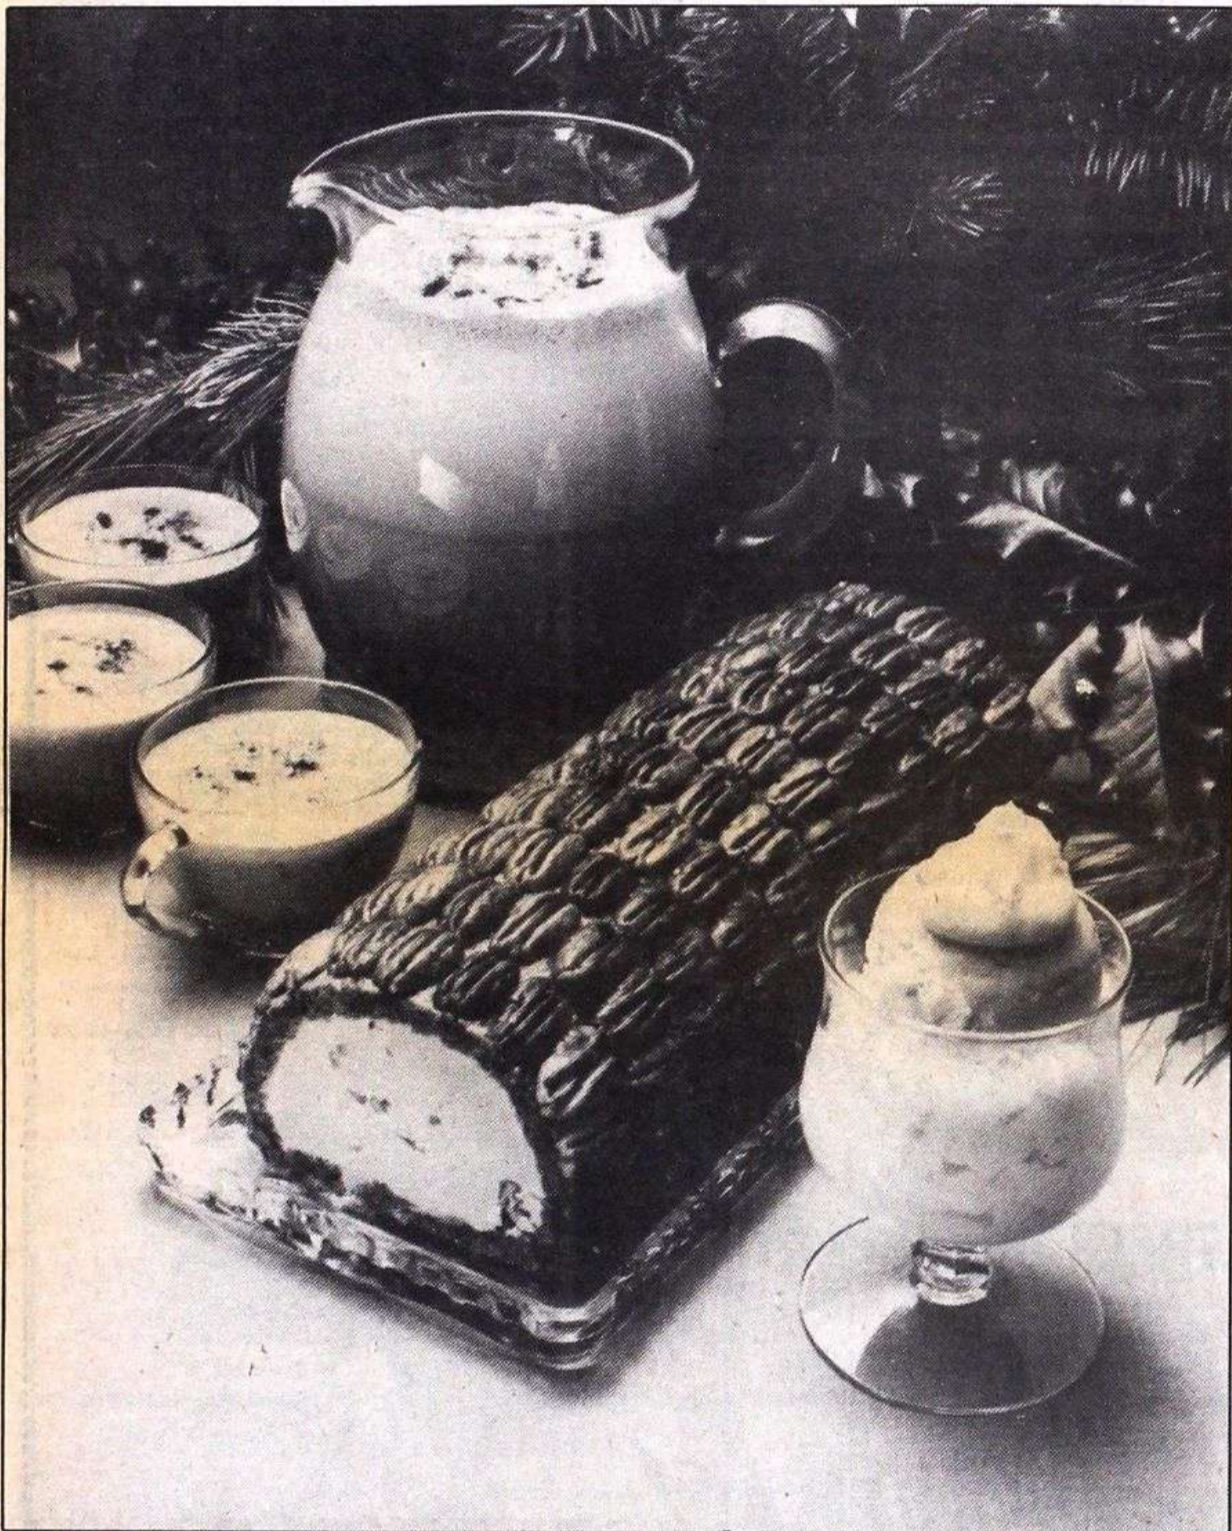

Topping

Combine 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons bourbon and 2 tablespoons water in small sauce pan. Bring mixture to a boil, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. Cool to lukewarm.

Jamoca Eggnog

1 pint dark rum
2 ounces (¼ cup) coffee liqueur
1 quart dairy eggnog
1 pint Baskin-Robbins Chocolate Ice Cream (softened)
1 pint Baskin-Robbins Jamoca (R) Ice Cream (softened)

Instant espresso coffee powder
Combine rum, coffee liqueur and eggnog. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, pour ½ of mixture in a chilled punch bowl. Soften ice cream, add to punch bowl and stir until smooth. Add remaining mixture and stir well. Sprinkle lightly with coffee powder. Makes 14-16 servings.

Quotes worth quoting

"In old age one learns much of what one didn't want to understand in youth."

Karl Julius Weber said it.

Books, Lehman wed in Lansing; now living in Connecticut

Double ring vows were exchanged Sept. 17 between Diane F. Lehman of Lansing and Martin T. Books, of Newington, Conn. The five o'clock rite, conducted by The Rev. David B. Nelson Jr., joined in marriage the daughter of Ray Lehman of Park Lake and the late Mrs. Lehman and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Books of Belleville.

Faith United Methodist Church in Lansing was reserved for the ceremony attended by some 110 relatives and friends.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her brother, Edward Lehman, the bride appeared in her mother's wedding gown, an ivory satin creation designed with a sweetheart neckline edged with satin embroidery and wristpoint sleeves attached to a little fitted bodice. A circular train banded in ivory lace accented the toe-touching skirt which featured a full ivory tulle overskirt.

She also chose to wear her mother's veil which was cut in cathedral length, outlined with lace and secured by an ivory beaded tiara. Completing her bridal finery was a single ivory silk rose tied with cranberry-colored satin ribbon.

As her sister's honor attendant, Mrs. James McClees of Lansing donned an ankle-length wrap skirt of black lycra, softly gathered at the waist and curved at the hemline to form a side split. Her white tuxedo blouse had a pleated bib front and wing tip collar. Cranberry satin accents were used in the cummerbund and bow tie and for the single silk rose she carried.

Wearing identical ensembles and also tucking sprigs of baby's breath in their hair were Mrs. Doug Sage of Park Lake and Mrs. Kenneth Voigt of Belleville, sisters of the bride and bridegroom, respectively; Jodi Reinert of Lansing, niece of the bride, and Pam Zimmerman and Nancy Brady, both of Rockford, Ill.

The bridegroom chose his close friend, Phil Grillo of Portland, Ore., formerly of Belleville, to serve as best man. The corps of ushers included Michael Books of Belleville, brother of the bridegroom; Kevin Hanna, of Bloomington, Ind.; Tim Plummer of Indianapolis, Ind., a Purdue roommate of the bridegroom; Michael Sweppy of Livonia and Brad Wilcox of Stevensville.

Youngsters in the bridal coterie were the bridegroom's niece and nephew: Sarah Voigt, 3½, who was flower girl, and Matthew Voigt, six, the ringbearer.

Sara's little floor-length frock of ivory qiana was designed with short puffed sleeves and a bib-shaped collar outlined with ivory lace. She wore a wreath of baby's breath trimmed with cranberry ribbon in her hair and carried a miniature ivory silk rose with similar ribbon.

At the dinner-dance reception, which followed at Emil's West of Lansing, the bridegroom's mother greeted the 110 guests in a grey velvet suit piped in matching satin. Her corsage of pink silk flowers matched her pink blouse.

A 1974 alumnus of Belleville High School, the bridegroom earned a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Purdue University in 1979 and his master of business administration degree from Michigan State University in 1981. He is currently with Chandler-Evans Division, Colt Industries, in Hartford, Conn. He and his bride are now residing at 261 Cottonwood Road in Newington, Conn.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Seahawk-West in Lansing the evening before the wedding.

MR. AND MRS. MARTIN T. BOOKS

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

After a few hours of hoofing it around a Toledo shopping mall recently, I took time for a break near one of those little shops — the ones with the aromatic odors flooding the place — which feature all kinds of exotic coffees and teas.

With my cup of Swiss almond mocha decaff and a bench in the concourse, I sat studying my fellow man while waiting for my brew to cool to a drinkable point.

A people-watcher from way back, I came up with a number of observations and conclusions during my 20-minute respite.

- Seven out of 10 people were eating something — cookies, ice cream cones, fat pretzels, popcorn, lollipops, bagged candy.
- Six out of 10 people were overweight.
- Little boys were not meant to wear shirts that need to be tucked in since every one of the "tuckable" sort was hanging out.
- Those same little boys were not designed for shopping expeditions either. More than half of them were fighting their adult companions' proffered hands (restraints) and the other half was being yelled at to "get back here!"
- Little girls shouldn't have to suffer being dragged about either! Seeing their tiny arms practically yanked from their sockets (merely because they were dead tired) made me want to punch a few people.
- Jeans, jeans, jeans and more jeans — the uniform of our times — dominated the "fashion parade." I was watching. Teen-agers were all wearing a second skin of denim, accessorized mainly by running shoes of some sort. The older teen women opted for higher heels or boots in many cases.
- Too many young people, WAY too many in the 14 to 18 group, were puffing on, lighting up or holding cigarettes.

- Fewer adults seemed to have the habit although more women stopped at the nearby ashtray than men.
- Most of those occupying benches in my vicinity were males — older ones — sitting it out while their wives did the holiday shopping.
- Women walked with much more determination than men; there was very little strolling unless they were in twosomes, then the pace was slower.
- Men seemed aimless, as if they were merely killing time. Very few were carrying packages, most seemed bored silly.
- The coffee shoppe did a booming business; eight out of 10 drinkers requesting coffee over tea. Fortunately, for sweets freaks such as I, there were no donuts or pastries available there (a fact I lamented at the time) but given a couple of the goodies and a refill on my drink, I'd have had still more "statistics" to pass on to you.

WHILE READING Dear Abby's column the other night, thoughts of "Oh, oh, I'm in trouble" kept racing through my head.

One of her letters (which hit home) asked: "Is it characteristic of all old men to talk back to the TV? It is most upsetting because when my husband watches TV it sounds like there are three people in the living room — when it's only him."

When I am talking on the phone, the party I'm talking to always asks, "Do you have company?" I'm ashamed to admit it's just my husband talking to the TV.

Abby, is my husband senile, or is this a form of insanity? Don't use our name. He is retired and everybody thinks he's normal."

Although I'm not an old man, not retired and NOBODY thinks I'm normal, I can identify with that poor (henpecked) soul. I'm not big on watching TV but, when I do (or when I listen to the car radio) I, too, sound off!

Just let me walk in on one of BG's football telecasts and hear Howard Cosell's nerve-grating voice and I immediately yell, "Oh, why don't you shut up!"

If he's paired with Don Meredith, I often have to remind him, "Oh, quit acting so darn silly!"

I'm not always negative, though, I do tell Doris Biscoe, "I love your clothes, your class, your style" and always give Jerry Hodak a little ego boosting. "Boy, you're a smart dresser!"

But let Hizzoner (as Pete Waldmeir refers to Detroit's head honcho) appear on the screen and I immediately challenge him with, "WHO'S a racist?"

As for Channel 7's Rich Fisher, I simply mutter, "Quit apeing Bill Bonds, you copycat." Is he or is he not, a clone to B.B. with his every gesture, nuance, voice inflection, delivery — even his hair style?

And I turn into a perfect impressionist whenever Diana Lewis appears and frustrate my family by "doing" her staccato intro — "This is Di-an-a Lewis."

I feel my age and gravity-stricken bod whenever I behold Jacqueline Smith and only feel it fitting and proper to tell her, "Cheez, you're gorgeous!" (What I'm thinking, however, is — who needs this kind of aggravation?)

My reaction to Harry Reasoner? Everytime, it's "Okay, Harry, unclench your teeth!"

To his other cohorts: Morley Safer, "Ye gads, Morley, who dresses you?" Mike Wallace, "You don't have to be so darn snotty, Mike!" Andy Rooney, "You're the best part of 60 minutes, Andy!"

For some reason, my message to Tom Watkins never gets across; he's still a dowdy dresser despite the fact I've admonished him with "Come on, Tom, get something colorful for a change! Those black golf slacks have got to go!"

Just in case you're thinking "What a screwball," let me include Abby's answer to "Talker's Wife."

"He may be perfectly all right, so unless you have other reasons to question your husband's mental well-being, don't worry about it. Thank your lucky stars you have a man who's alive, occupied and entertained."

Are you paying attention, BG? Girls?

THE BOTTOM LINE: Today's Minutemen: Those who can make it to the refrigerator and back with a sandwich — while the TV commercial is still on.

Have the Sweetest Christmas Tree in Town!

You can have your candy and eat it too by using favorite confections to decorate your Christmas Tree this Yule season.

Decorating your tree with confection and other edibles is a way of making double use of holiday sweets while adding a warm, old-fashioned touch to your whole home during the holidays.

When guests drop in to share the joys of the season, let them sample their favorite confection — right off the tree! Simply keep a reserve of assorted candies on hand and replace them as they are snared away.

According to the National Confectioners Association there are over 2,000 varieties of confections in every size, shape, color and flavor, so simply let your imagination and taste take over, and you're bound to create a super sweet tree that's sure to please.

Hard candies like sour balls, candy sticks, canes and lollipops are easy to turn into colorful ornaments. Tie a length of thin string or yarn around each confection and tie the end of the yarn around the tree branch. For large ornaments, tie up a bundle of candies in thin mesh fabric and use yarn or string to attach to the tree.

Candy corns, gumdrops, jelly beans and licorice will sparkle sweetly on your tree when they are clustered together in squares of transparent wrap. Place an assortment of confections in the see-through wrapping, twist up all four corners, bundle style, tie up with colorful ribbon or yarn and hang up.

You can make sweet tree gems from boxed chocolates, marshmallows, bridge mix, chocolate covered raisins and peanuts, by filling clear plastic pin boxes with these favorites and tying on with ribbon or yarn. Small squares of mesh or netting, filled with favorite confections and tied with colorful ribbon also make dandy candy decorations.

Any confection wrapped in aluminum foil can become a sparkling tree trimming treasure. And think of the sweet suspenseful fun of picking an ornament to eat without knowing what delicious sweet treat may be inside.

Candy Santas, reindeer, snowmen and other seasonally-shaped confections are naturals for your sweet Yule tree. Many are wrapped in colorful foil, just ready for your tree trimming time.

When it's time to dismantle your holiday tree, remove any remaining ornaments (if there are any left), place in a convenient location, and recall the joys of the Yule season with each sweet bite.

Newcomers on the scene

Alex Frederick Feitel

"It's a boy!" was the announcement which went out Nov. 20 following the birth of Fred and Rita Feitel's first child. The Saline couple welcomed their new heir at 9:20 p.m. at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, his weight being recorded at 8 lbs.-13 ozs. and his length at 22 1/4 inches.

Titled "Alex Frederick," the infant is the new grandson of Felix and Helen Feitel of Belleville and Ralph and Mabel Barnard of Taylor and the great-grandson of Ida Barnard also of Taylor.

The new mother is the former Rita Barnard.

Katyn Marie Craig

Anthony Warren Craig, who's 3 1/2-years-old, has a new baby sister he's been helping look in on this pre-holiday season. Her name is Katyn Marie and she made her debut at 12:40 p.m. Nov. 7 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The 7 lb.-11 1/2 oz. newcomer, who measured 20 inches, is the second child of Warren and Patty Craig of 327 N. Liberty St., Belleville.

Her proud grandparents include Marie and Don Craig of Lansing; Zella Van Buren of Oklahoma City, Okla. and William Van Buren of Reno, Nev.

Great-grandparent honors go to Hazel Van Buren of Clafin, Kans.; Gertrude Craig of Lansing and Patty Riggs of Oklahoma City, Okla. A great-great-grandmother, Carrie Simmons, resides in Leon, Kans.

Katyn's mom is the former Patty Van Buren.

Megan Patricia Ibbetson

Mike and Robin Ibbetson of 51074, #190, Canton, announce the birth of a baby daughter, Megan Patricia, on Nov. 13 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The infant, who bowed in at 4:05 a.m., weighed 7 lbs.-14 1/2 ozs. and measured 21 1/4 inches.

She is the new sister of Erin Elizabeth, who's 5-years-old, and the granddaughter of Matt and Betty Hrabosky of Belleville, Fred and Marie Ibbetson of Ypsilanti and Pat Ibbetson of Romulus. A great-grandfather, Charles Delo, lives in Dearborn Heights.

Erin's mom is the former Robin Schmidt a one-time Belleville resident.

Jeffery Ray Ziemba

The birth of their second son, Jeffery Ray, is announced by Diane and Conrad Ziemba of Castle Drive, Canton. The new heir bowed in at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 20 at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn.

Weighing 7 lbs.1 oz. and measuring 21 inches, he is the future playmate of his 2-year-old brother, Stephen.

The boys' grandparents are Shirley and Victor Ziemba of Farmington Hills and Gloria and Ray Henry of Belleville. Their mother is the former Diane Henry.

During his stay, little Jeffery was the only blue-eyed blonde baby in the hospital. His brother also has the same coloring.

EDITOR'S NOTE: News of your baby's birth, that of a grandchild — in this area or elsewhere — or that of former residents are welcome additions to this column. Call 697-9191 with your information.

In the community

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Buck returned recently after having spent a week with their son and family, Dr. and Mrs. James Buck in Baltimore, Md. While there they helped Jim celebrate his birthday.

Guests last week of Mrs. Helen White were her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Reuther of Effingham, Ill. On Saturday they were luncheon guests of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gentry at Madison Heights.

Mrs. Stewart (Bertha) Potts spent the holiday week in Las Vegas, Nev. with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Potts.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Baehr returned recently from Huntington, N.Y. where they had spent a week with their son, Jack and family, and granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ciechanowicz.

Mrs. Zula Hopson was a Thursday dinner guest of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Decker of Williamston.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Murphy returned recently from Manchester, Tenn. where they had been guests of the latter's sister and husband, Bedia and Clyde Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schultz entertained at a family holiday dinner Nov. 24 and a celebration of the birthdays of the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Korgal: Marcy, whose 12th birthday was Nov. 23, and Laurie, who was 16 Nov. 25.

Others present were Frances Korgal, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Korgal, Amy and Stacy; Steven Korgal, Pam LaPorte, and, of course, Andrea, Sam, Susie and Katie Schultz.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Whitehouse of Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson and family of Ypsilanti enjoyed dinner on Thursday with their parents, Rachel and Russell Wilson.

On Tuesday, Nov. 29, 51 relatives and friends of Mrs. Inez Carnahan gathered at the Red Apple on Main Street for breakfast to celebrate her 85th birthday. Among those present were her son, Donald, his wife and family of Ann Arbor; two sisters, a brother, several grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Another son, Bernard was unable to be present.

Members of the Richard Carey family — his wife Nancy and daughter, Susan Featheringill with Amy and Sara; a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Thornburg and Benjamin of Kalamazoo, motored to Collins, O. to spend the holiday with Mrs. Carey's mother, Mrs. Jane Stryker.

Mrs. Velma Kulzer returned recently from New Orleans, La. where she had spent a week with her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Parkinson.

Mrs. Dorothy Vedder of Saline was a guest last Monday of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wilson.

The annual Christmas party for the Kitchen Belles Band was held at the home of its director, Myrtle Wells, Nov. 28. A bountiful meal was enjoyed and a social evening was spent by all who were present.

Former Sumpter Road residents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Barker, and daughter, Lonna Emerson, of Kentucky have been visiting their son, Randy Barker of Romulus. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Korgal and Mrs. Frances Korgal were last Thursday evening callers at the Barker home.

Gadabouts change plans; will attend stage show in Westland Dec. 11

In lieu of their regular meeting Sunday, Dec. 11, the Gadabouts Travel Club, an affiliate of September Days Seniors, will attend a performance of "Holiday Cabaret" presented by the Spotlight Players at Westland Center Auditorium.

The tab, including transportation, is $5 with the bus leaving the September Days Center at 1:15 p.m. Any senior citizen is welcome to join the group at this activity.

For further information, call the Center at 699-8919 or 699-8920.

Short subjects

Give your budget a gift this season. Include plenty of economical eggs in your holiday plans. When large eggs are a dol-light Players at Westland Center Auditorium.

At this gift-giving time of year, don't forget those who are unable or find it difficult to cook but still want to entertain. Gift the elderly and handicapped with party-sized egg salad sandwiches, fruit-filled crepes or eggnog, and they'll be all set for holiday entertaining.

If you've eaten one rich food too many this holiday season, try a simple, soothing natural nog for your next meal. Combine one egg, one cup of milk, honey, molasses, or sugar to taste and one teaspoon of vanilla. Beat or shake until well blended. Pour into a tall glass and garnish with cinnamon or nutmeg. It's virtually a meal in itself!

During the busy holiday season, plan to start each day with a hearty breakfast. An old favorite — French toast — is filling and fast-to-fix.

Dip bread slices in a mixture of beaten eggs and milk, fry in a lightly greased pan and serve with fruit, preserves or syrup for a keep-you-going breakfast.

If too many calorie-laden holiday treats have expanded your waistline, try a lower calorie, but protein-rich, egg dish for your next meal. Simply scramble a couple of eggs and add onions, mushrooms, spinach, broccoli or whatever you have on hand. Top with a light sprinkling of cheese and you'll have a nutritious low-in-calorie meal

Did you know that fresh eggs in the shell can be stored in the refrigerator in their cartons for at least four to five weeks? Separated "egg halves" can be kept, too. Store unbroken egg yolks covered with water or plain egg whites in the refrigerator in a tightly covered container. Whites will keep a week to ten days and yolks two to three days.

Stop the Great Heat Escape! Window Quilt™ insulated shades cut window heat loss up to 79%

If you're serious about home heating efficiency, you already know that far more heat escapes through windows than walls, roof or doors. You can pack your walls with thick insulation, install tight-fitting storms or double glazing. Even so, you'll most likely lose more than half your precious winter heat through your windows.

What's the answer?

Window Quilt™. This multi-layered thermal shade can eliminate up to 79% of winter heat-loss through single-glazed windows, as much as 66% through double-paned glass. In your house, Window Quilts probably will pay for themselves well within 5 years.

Window Quilts fit tightly on all four sides, sealing warm air in and cold air out. They're easy to install and operate, easy to live with, far more efficient than ordinary shades or insulated drapes.

- Fit almost any size window, even 8' wide sliders.
- More than twice as effective as storms, better than 4 glazings (R value: 4.25).
- In snow country, with double glazing one sq. ft. saves 1 gal. oil per year. Payback is 2-5 years.
- Helps keep summer heat out — saves on air conditioning.
- Now available in 48 decorator colors.

Sumpter at war
Township wins a battle

The war may indeed not be over, as Sumpter Township Supervisor Jim Reeves put it. But surely Sumpter officials and residents can savor a moment of sweet victory in the wake of a Wayne County committee's vote that, temporarily at least, bars construction of a 75-acre non-hazardous waste landfill in their midst.

The Wayne County Solid Waste Management Planning Committee voted 7-5 last week against including MJW, Inc., a Dearborn corporation, in its 20-year plan. Inclusion would have given the company a legal go-ahead to construct the landfill within a few miles of an existing one.

The corporation has spent thousands of dollars on development plans ever since it received a Department of Natural Resources license back in 1976. But as adamant as the company has been to construct its landfill, Sumpter residents have been equally adamant in opposing it.

The cry of "no more landfills in Sumpter" is echoed at township meetings almost as regularly as the pledge of allegiance. And Township Supervisor Jim Reeves has been an unflinching carrier of the torch.

"They will not put another landfill in Sumpter Township as long as I'm supervisor," is Reeves' standard reply during the months of meetings, (and occasional confrontations between the two sides) that preceded the vote. Reeves doesn't waste words.

Sumpter residents, some of whom have lived most of their lives on small farms near the proposed landfill site, were unimpressed by MJW's enticements to pave the roads near the landfill or even to set up some kind of "revenue participation plan."

And in doing so they have posed a question that DNR officials, now more than in the past, will have to answer. As one Sumpter resident eloquently expressed it, "Why should we be the ones who have to work so hard to prove our case? Why do you all take it for granted that a business has the right to make money any way it can, no matter what it does to the community?"

MJW officials have not conceded defeat. They have indicated they may use their dollars and their by now extensive knowledge of legal recourses to forge ahead with the struggle.

But for now, at least Sumpter officials should pause for a moment to congratulate themselves. They've earned the respite.

Scrooge
Inkster police play the role

To the army of those volunteers who stood out in the cold, rain, snow and braved the northerly winds over the weekend to raise funds for the Goodfellows last week, we salute you.

A job well done.

The reports are that most area Goodfellows accomplished the toughest part of their mission — raising the money needed so that "No Child is Without a Christmas".

But there is one angry Goodfellow chairman today and rightfully so. He's Booker Dozier of Inkster.

He, Dozier, a God-fearing, children-loving man who has devoted most of his life helping others, was angry and he vented that anger before the Inkster city council.

Mr. Dozier couldn't understand why most members of the police department, unlike those in the neighboring communities, refused to volunteer their time to help the Goodfellows raise money. He feels that the police have a special obligation to the community they serve.

Not only are the police there to protect the citizens, enforce the laws, but to help those in need. And there are a lot of children who can use that special help.

Believe me, there are many children who go to bed without food in this and other communities. All we wanted from our police was a few hours of their time to help raise money so the kids could have a decent Christmas. Mr. Dozier says.

"I don't think we were asking for much," Mr. Dozier adds.

And we wholeheartedly agree with him.

On caring for the elderly

I can still remember walking into a nursing home for the first time. Although I was young my expectations about its depressing, gloomy environment were confirmed.

Why does one have inhibitions about "growing older" and about nursing home facilities?

Finally I can answer that question after much examination. We, the American Society, who place ultimate importance on "youth" and staying young (evidenced by commercials and other ignorant garbage), have caused our children and ourselves to view the aging process as something less than desirable.

Who has ever heard the word "Senile" as being referred to with youth? Senility feeds itself on loneliness and depression, and NOT on one's chronological age!

May I take this opportunity to introduce myself. My name is Beth Alley-Johnson and I am a Wayne-Westland Adult Education teacher. My "students" reside in nursing homes, supervised care centers, Senior Adult housing, and private residences. They range in age from 51 to 101 years of age. They have talked with me in great length and have asked me to help understand the misconceptions of aging. So at this time, please rid yourself of your prejudices concerning aging and become aware.

Many people are placed within a nursing home because they need that constant medical attention that is provided. Who can financially afford a 24 hour nurse plus all the equipment needed to sustain life?

We do not think of people staying in hospitals as "senile" and "old". We consider that they have a medical problem that demands attention.

Yet, if they are moved to a nursing home facility, immediately they are "senile". Are you aware that many young and middle-aged adults reside in a nursing home facility? A nursing home is a place to recover and not to die.

If we could just rid ourselves of all the false beliefs concerning aging and just VISIT a homebound Senior, your attitude would change immediately. If you have a special person in a supervised care facility — please do not treat them as children (chances are they are older than you). They are human beings and need respect and by treating them as children, you lessen their chances for full recovery. Please do not isolate them from society, and above all, do not hide unpleasant situations from them.

It is better to share problems with your loved one, than to seclude them from the realities of life. Allow them to make decisions and encourage them to do things for themselves.

Senility also breeds on an individual losing touch with the real world and active decision making keeps us mentally fit. Consider this: There are no nursing homes in the Orient. Oriental people take care of their elderly, despite the hardship. The respect and love they show their aging adult is endless. The oldest male adult is the head of the family until his death. He is called on constantly for advice and makes vital decisions even at 100 years of age. Is it surprising that "senility" is unheard of in the Orient?

Please, let's all make an effort to relieve ourselves of "learned" prejudices and educate our children toward positive aspects of aging. You to, one day, will be the aging parent and I'm confident you will want that respect and decision making power.

Thank you Senior Adults for giving me the wisdom and courage to speak in your behalf. You are a superb and most needed part of our great whole. Please do not lose faith in us.

Romulus teachers speak out

Since November 8, 1982, Romulus teachers have worked with our pay cut by 22 percent. While other unions in this area have gone on strike for pay raises or to prevent pay cuts, Romulus teachers have continued to work without a contract for over a year.

Apparently, this is not enough to satisfy Mrs. Pauline Hargis and all the people she supposedly "speaks for". (Romulus Roman, 11/23/83).

Mrs. Hargis urges us "not to cry over spilled milk."

What Mrs. Hargis has chosen to ignore is that the "milk" being spilled is nearly one-fourth of our income, and it has continued to be spilled every two weeks for over a year.

She complains that we should all "pull together to make the best of a bad situation."

Where was Mrs. Hargis when Romulus teachers, in the spring of 1982, offered to take a wage freeze?

Where was she when the Board of Education, at a recent meeting, adopted a budget with a surplus of over $900,000?

Where were all these people who complain about "negative" actions when the Board of Education cut our pay? Which is more negative — putting up a billboard, or deliberately and unjustly imposing financial hardship on your children's teachers?

No, Mrs. Hargis, we do not have much "hope for the future," due to the abuse we have taken in the past. Our years of dedicated service have gotten us nothing more than a stab in the back.

We refuse to yield to the coercive tactics of the Board. With more intensity than ever, our protests will continue.

'Resign
and run again...'

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

"Resign and run again."

Those simple words, a devious political ploy, may someday come back and haunt State Senator William Faust, a man who had earned the respect of his district and the state.

It is a far, far better thing to do if you don't have any programs except to raise taxes but to resign and never run again.

The beauty of it all is, if the people we have elected and helped put in office are so innovative, so clever, so unendingly preoccupied with new and better slogans to stay in office, why can't they spend more time solving the financial problems of this state?

For those who have missed the latest chapter in the campaign to recall those who supported Governor James Blanchard's 38 percent income tax hike, Faust, who represents this area, urged his colleagues that were faced with recall, "to resign from office, then run for re-election."

After Philip O. Mastin (D-Pontiac) became the recall's first victim and consequently the first state senator to be recalled from office, and after it was obvious that David M. Serotkin (D-Mount Clemens) would also wind up on the chopping block, Faust came up with the brilliant idea that those singled out for recall should "resign from office, then seek the position at a later date."

And, if Serotkin had not already been recalled (only the Board of Canvassers had to meet to put its stamp of approval on what the voters desired), it would have been interesting to see where Serotkin's resignation would have led.

In subsequent action by the Attorney General, the top legal opinion in this state, ruled that Serotkin is ineligible to run for the office.

As we have repeatedly said here, taxpayers don't mind paying for services; don't mind paying a fair share of taxes (and, I know you're going to ask "What is fair?"), don't mind supporting administrations that show they are, at least trying and at best honest with them...

And, realizing that most politicians say a lot of things during campaigns that are hyperbolic, highly exaggerated, and some are downright lies, we can forgive sometimes.

But, once in a while we, the taxpayers, get mad. We have our tea parties; tell King George where to go, vote against any school tax that comes our way.

After all, where else can we take out our frustrations?

What I think is happening, out here where it really counts is that people are beginning to really believe that they can fight City Hall and win, and that if someone doesn't really have anything to offer he can be replaced.

What I think is happening is that, people are sick of those elected officials who sneak past the 20 percent who usually vote. They have awakened to the fact that the elected official has a mission to accomplish - to do the voter's bidding - and if he or she doesn't, then they can yank him out of office.

In the past politicians blurted out that they and they alone had the solutions for society's economic and social ills. This recall is telling them they better darn be ready to prove it.

Print all side
to controversy
on landfills

EDITOR — For the past several weeks, your newspaper has been covering the proposed modification to the existing landfill at Vreeland and Fort Street in Gibraltar.

As is the case with nearly all media coverage of a waste management proposal, it is heavily slanted toward the small group of vocal citizens who oppose the project.

Many times comments and allegations are made by citizens who are not technically qualified or experienced in the waste disposal business. When the media prints these comments without substantiating evidence or without providing rebuttal comment, they are doing a disservice to all readers and may actually be a party to misrepresentations.

Enclosed is an information package relative to the proposed project. I believe you will find it contains information that citizens groups fail to mention.

In particular, the efforts by McLouth to invest monies in Gibraltar derived from the project, efforts by our firm to allow Gibraltar to monitor our operations, offers by our firm to provide site maintenance well beyond legal requirements of the State (to prevent another Arsenal Road situation) and finally our efforts to provide local community benefits.

I hope your paper will fairly report both sides of the issue and end misrepresentations. The most damaging misrepresentation reported is the 'Supposed' intent to accept hazardous and toxic wastes. There is no present or future intent of McLouth or Gibraltar Development to accept hazardous or toxic wastes at the site.

Foul-up cost
resident vote

EDITOR — The contested mayoral election held recently in Inkster comes as no surprise. My experience in trying to vote on an absentee ballot in the November election showed me how incompetent and disorganized the city clerk's office is.

Because I attend college in Mount Pleasant, I visited the city clerk's office in person on Saturday, Nov. 5 to vote on an absentee ballot during a weekend home.

I was under the assumption everything was set for me to vote. Instead, I was told my name was not registered, either in the active or cancelled file, therefore, I was not allowed to vote.

I am registered and have voted in past elections, but I was sworn in again and registered, again. Two days later, the day before the election, my home in Inkster was notified by the clerk's office that I was indeed registered and could vote.

Because of time constrictions, I could not get home to vote at the polls, so my vote was not cast. A lack of communication and a poor filing system in the clerk's office cost me my vote.

One of the slogans for the campaign was 'Revive Inkster.' I hope this becomes a reality and not campaign rhetoric, and I suggest you start with the city clerk's office.

Parent apathy
toward schools

EDITOR — May I address this letter to the Wayne-Westland parents? We missed you on Thurs., Nov. 17 at the John Marshall Junior High School. The evening was planned for you.

I can't believe that fewer than one hundred parents cared enough to attend. Administrators and teachers were there, in force, to hold small group sessions to inform US about every phase of OUR children's education and development.

Those of us who did attend found a wealth of information and an exciting speaker, Dr. Mary Bigler, Professor at Eastern Michigan University. It, truly, was your loss, those of you who missed the evening.

Elected official's responsibility

EDITOR: When we elect someone to represent us, we have only his word and his campaign literature on which to base our decision. In good faith the Wayne County Taxpayers' Assn. rated Senator Patrick McCollough highly when he was campaigning for office. We were given written and verbal assurances of his commitment to stand in opposition to a tax increase and his firm commitment to reduce state spending.

In return, we were rewarded with his vote for a 38% tax increase and an increase in the state budget of (12.7%) 1.4 billion dollars.

If Senator McCollough can break two major campaign promises in just three months, it is unfair to us to guarantee him three more years in office.

He contends that the increase was necessary to avoid bankruptcy. We contend that reducing state spending would have achieved the same results.

The projected budget surplus, even after the increase in spending, should convince any reasonable person that the tax increase was unconscionable.

We did not elect Senator McCollough to ignore our wishes but to faithfully represent us.

It took absolutely no skill or commitment to raise taxes; anyone could have done as much. A true commitment would have been to address those problems which contribute to our being ranked last of the 48 contiguous states in economic climate. A true commitment would have meant to recognize the failed policies of the past would do nothing to enhance the future.

Senator McCollough, though you say you feel no shame, you should.

Robichaud team, staff applauded

EDITOR — On behalf of the Westwood Board of Education and the Westwood Community school family, I would like to extend the warmest congratulations to Robichaud Principal and Head Coach, Robert Yauck, the talented Robichaud coaching staff, and the dedicated Robichaud athletic booster club for assembling such a fine group of young men — the Robichaud football team.

These youngsters did what no other public school area football team has been able to do — they almost won the state championship!

They almost won in spite of the fact that the Robichaud Athletic Program has been almost totally financed through the fund raising efforts of the Booster Club and through some private donations collected from district employees, students, parents, business and community organizations, such as private Donovan's V.F.W. Post. This was most evident when the team needed special shoes to play in an astro-turf field in the playoffs at Flint.

The Booster Club, under the direction of its president, Mrs. Loretta Randall, solicited and received contributions from almost everyone in the Westwood Community so that "our" kids could have the chance to compete.

We in the Westwood Community are unique. We are special. We are both black and white. We are both rich and poor. We are both young and old, but most of all we are united in our praise for "our" football team! Thank you for a great start to what is going to be a great year for the total Westwood educational program.

reflections

Down the chimney he goes

I was driving down a long winding road the other day with my seven year old grandson, who was holding his little face in his hands. We were on the way to the dentist and in looking at the little guy I could see he was hurting a lot.

I was just going to ask him if it hurt when he looked up at me, a big grin on his face and said, "I sure am lucky, Grandma, that I got this toothache today."

"Why are you lucky?" I asked, and he answered, "Because today is handwriting day and I hate handwriting. So, I'm lucky, I don't have to go to school."

I was thinking what a wonderful little fellow he was, when his expression changed, and he blurted out, "Santa Claus is a big fake."

"Jamie," I shrieked. "How can you say such a thing about Santa Claus?"

"There just ain't no Santa Claus," he said, and then with a little wistful look he glanced up at me. "Is there?"

This little guy is too young to have the magic of Christmas rubbed right out of his heart, I thought, so I asked him if he knew how the belief in Santa Claus began. Naturally, he didn't, so I told him about that wonderful person Nicholas, who later became St. Nicholas, and how he went all over the country giving presents to little boys and girls who had no way of getting presents unless someone thought about them. And I told him how the gift-giving began, because of the three wise men bringing gifts to the Baby Jesus, and how when Nicholas died he was made a Saint, and a great legend sprung about him, and children put out their little wooden shoes every Christmas Eve for them to be filled with gifts.

His eyes grew big and round while he listened to me, and I told him never to lose the magic of Christmas for a life without magic is a sad life, indeed. And then I told him how in 1840 or thereabouts, a man, whose name was Clement Moore wrote the poem, "Twas the night before Christmas." And how, because of that poem, Saint Nicholas became known gradually as Santa Claus, a merry little Elf, who brought presents from the North Pole, and slid down our chimneys, making everyone happy on Christmas Day. I told him how the merry little Elf, grew into a big jolly fellow with bright red cheeks, and a flowing white beard, and a great love for all children.

Joyce Hagelthorn

"Now do you understand, honey," I asked, "that Santa Claus is a legend... a myth... something that one can pretend to believe in, while being wrapped in happiness and that magical glow that comes with giving happiness... and receiving it!"

He nodded his head and his eyes grew thoughtful.

"But, Grandma," he finally said, "I still don't see how Santa Claus can get down those little old chimneys!"

The belief had returned. Legend, myth or magic didn't really matter, as long as he could know how Santa Claus could get down those little old chimneys.

In every home (including ours) there were 'pin-ups' of the planes those men worked on and loved. They couldn't keep their hands off them. They would run their hands over the 'skin' of those planes whenever they showed them off to someone, and there was no doubt that there was something about those machines that transcended "just a job."

But the good times — the prosperity in the desert surrounding Edwards — ended with a bang. The advent of Sputnik and the space age killed it. By the time we left, in 1959, entire tracts of half-finished houses — 200 to 300 houses to a tract — stood empty, like white-baked skeletons in the desert sun.

I had forgotten how much I loved it and missed it all — until I saw "The Right Stuff." If there was disappointment, it was only because the real thing isn't there anymore.

'The right stuff'

Finally got around to seeing the movie, "The Right Stuff." I liked it — thought it was good, but not great — thought Sam Shepard, who played Chuck Yeager, was worth the price an admission alone.

On the other hand, my husband, a great admirer of Tom Wolfe's writing style, was disappointed. He didn't think the movie captured the essence of the book. He may be right.

There is another reason I enjoyed the movie (but this may be another reason my husband was disappointed in it), and that is that we lived in the desert high country (about 20 miles from Edwards Air Base) during the time that Chuck Yeager and all those other hot-shot test pilots were doing their stuff.

My husband worked for Lockheed and was one of the technicians working on test equipment for the F-104 fighter jet (the sleek beauty Chuck Yeager flew — and crashed — at the end of the movie).

He saw Yeager many times — as he did many of the test pilots during those years. Some of the best of them never lived to tell the tales. Their grand adventure ended for them in the smoke and dust of the flats surrounding Edwards.

That part of the movie was only too true — but for someone who had worked in the industry, and had read and admired Tom Wolfe's accurate and precise accounting of the facts — the shoddy and unaccountable technical discrepancies in the film got in the way.

As for me, ignorance is bliss, I guess... because I could — and did — enjoy the desert scenes, and enjoy the flight scenes, and remember what it was like to live out there during the peak of the supersonic era, just on the edge of the space age.

I remember being in a restaurant in Palmdale once when a whole group of test pilots and their wives came in. There was a buzz of recognition among the restaurant crowd — as though they were seeing movie stars — and they were treated like royalty by the restaurant staff. Contrary to what the movie would have you believe (there is a line in there about the "unknown test pilots"), everybody knew who they were. At least, in our neck of the desert.

And there was no forgetting that the area was the testing ground for supersonic jets. The sonic booms, (the phenomenon that occurs when a plane flies above the speed of sound) rumbled across the desert floor and echoed into the foothills 20 or 30 times a day.

Sometimes, if the plane was low-flying, the booms hit with such intensity that cupboard doors would fly open and dishes would crash to the floor. (The sound was much the way thunder is — sometimes it rumbles, sometimes it hits with a bang.) We grew accustomed to the rattling of windows and doors. We didn't even notice it after awhile, and were reminded only when a visitor would suddenly look wide-eyed with fear.

There was something else — another phenomenon — the movie captured well, I thought, and that was the love affair the men who flew (and worked on) those planes had with them. In groups, at parties, the men (my husband included) would wander off to a corner to talk — we always

Tribute to Bulldogs

*The Bulldogs of nineteen eighty-three
Are now a part of our history
For the hear, the grit, the spirit that prevailed
The drive, the talent, the teamwork we hailed
Will remain in our hearts on thru the years
The joy, the pride, yes, even the tears
Four of six hundred, that's champions, you bet
And champions too, are those who met
The practical problems — too many it would seem Like finance, equipment, transporting the team
Here's to our Bulldogs — such pride we feel today
Here's to our Booster — behind them all the way
Here's to Coach Yauck, whose values we've hailed
His guidance, love and belief never failed
Here's to Jones, Bryson, Cowher, Founory
Who worked with our kids to bring them to glory
Westwood came thru, our hats off to all
Who had what it takes to answer the call
Supported the team, raised money and fought
So our Bulldogs could go for the greatness they sought
Paul, we love you, and all that you stand for
And, Mark, your arm, will become Bulldog lore
Gerald and Will, Jeff and Mike
Your style and class are something we like
Maurice, Raymond, Jarvis and Marcus
Dennis and Mathew, many a thrill you brought us
Roosevelt, Scott, Matt and Ben
Robinchaud youth turned into men
Kevin, Deon, Troy and Chris
You helped bring us this corner of bliss
Marvin, Rodney, Phillip and Wade
What a thrill, the progress you made
Bernard, Ken, Lucien, Joe Fears
All ears ring with the sound of our cheers
Gerry, Alonzo, Tom and Mark Cook
You did your share to write this book
Of a Westwood success and a challenge met We're proud of you all, on that you can bet*

world of wheels by denny campbell

If you don't think there are car enthusiasts out there in Eagleland, you ought to cruise Ford Road between Merriman and Wayne Road sometime! The hottest cars in the world live there! My trip yielded the following:

Red Holman — A vertiable fleet of Pontiac Trans Ams crouched alongside Ford Road, several used ones included.

Tri-County Auto Brokers —

Steve McGuire has a 1915 T-Bucket roadster powered by a 350 Chev V-8 and turbohydramatic; a '76 240Z with 3 Weber sidedrafts, Recaro seats, etc.

North Bros. Ford — three Mustang GT's, one Z-28 Camaro and a fire engine red Dodge Charger — Call Ron Marsh for a complete rundown.

Crestwood Dodge — A GTS Turbo Colt that makes your nose bleed just looking at it! This is a 1.6 litre turbo in a subcompact — ride reviews by several of the car mags really rate it high and its priced $4-5,000 less than its competition! Tim Teifer, at Crestwood, advises that these cars are allocation only — so he can't get color choices, options, etc. — just what they send him. Check out the accompanying picture ... mean, huh?

1984 Mustang GT Turbo

This all started in a conversation I had with Jim Demmer of Demmer Ford over my lust for the 5.0 litre Ford GT. Jim pointed out that the Turbo four was coming back and what a great car it is ... so I politely pointed out that it was nice, but the 5.0 had great performance, that V-8 rumble, a real American road runner.

Yes, Jim replied, but the turbo was very flexible, had it's own unique sound, and could scorch the streets at will. So, I cleverly say, put up or shut up, Jim. So what does Jim do? He puts up ... So what do I do? I shut up! Cause you're right, Jim Demmer!!!

This car is the best all-around American Sports Car I have ever driven!!! It does everything well, some things are superior and very little wrong. It's everything the 5 litre is but not so nose heavy in it's steering, and almost as fast.

What we're raving about here is a 2.3 litre 4-cylinder fuel injected motor — with a high-performance, cross-flow head, overhead camshaft, 5-main bearings, oil cooler and tuned intake manifold. It's also used in the Thunderbird Turbo Coupe ... at full boost, (10 pounds), around 4600 rpms, it develops 145 horsepower!! The front struts are gas charged while the rear suspension receives the quadra shock treatment also pioneered on the Turbo Coupe. Forward motion is controlled by a standard 5-speed full synchro transmission. If you need more technical info, believe me, Jim Demmer can give it to you!

So how does it work? As you have gathered, good enough to knock my socks off! The ride is firm but not uncomfortable, the steering positive and maybe a little light, depending on your preference, as it's variable-ratio power assisted. The car is certainly agile — lane changing on 275 has never been so much fun!

The standard TRX Wheels and tires contribute to this handling, and are sticky enough to handle the acceleration power-transfer without much breaking loose. After you get used to the gearshift being pointed or slanted towards your leg in first and second gear, the transmission becomes second nature through the shift pattern. Again, my own preference would be for shorter throws between gears, but it works well. The ratio combination is excellent — ending up at these comparison points:

45 mph in fifth gear: 2000 rpm
55 mph in fifth gear: 2250 rpm
so you can see you could run up north on the freeway vibrationless and economically. And, watch my lips on this one, there is NO TURBO LAG! I couldn't believe ... not even a millisecond. When you do, it does, and it does it right now! In every gear, the turbo is as smooth as a big cuber, it just comes right in and does it's job.

The living room is as comfortable as home, with seats demonstrating firm side support on the upper and lower cushions — not as good as Recaro but Ford is getting the idea. I much appreciate ated not seeing any fake chrome or simulated brushed steel in the perfectly uncluttered interior — excellent and appropriate gauges that are positioned well — a tilt steering wheel that drops in your lap; what else in life is there?

This car is so perfect you have to look for things to complain about — and one of my complaints is so nagging I hate to mention it, but I will. My own desire would be to replace the 'turbo lite' a green lite that comes on when the turbo is engaged — with a boost gauge. My reason is that at night I would be distracted by it's flickering on and off — and in the Mustang GT, you know you would be in and out of the turbo all night long!!!

One last word — the assembly fit and finish on this car was extraordinarily good. You couldn't help but notice everything fit, nothing loose, etc. etc. The car pictured was built before Dec. 1, obviously. On Dec. 1 the car gets halogen driving lites, deeper front spoiler and a rear spoiler similar to the lower trunk spoiler on the SVO Mustang. So watch for them — you'll see them everywhere!

Lock it up

Car thieves can be locked out

Car thieves favor stealing cars that offer the least challenge, so more and more owners are investing in anti-theft devices to protect their investment, says Automotive Information Council (AIC). Some auto insurance companies offer a premium reduction if an anti-theft device is installed.

Anti-theft devices come in three basic forms: locking systems, disabling mechanisms and alarms. AIC has compiled a short list of the various types and explains how they work:

IGNITION REPLACEMENT LOCKS are more burglar-proof than the original ignition lock.

A CUFF LOCK is an item which surrounds the ignition lock and steering column and is designed to protect the lock from being overcome by force.

HEADLESS DOOR-LOCK BUTTONS can replace the original mushroom-top lock buttons, preventing the door from being unlocked with a coat hanger.

CANE-TYPE LOCKS connect the steering wheel and brake pedal, preventing the steering wheel from turning or the brake from being depressed.

FUEL CUT-OFFS stop the flow of fuel to the engine unless disengaged. The car can be started but will stop when the gasoline in the carburetor is consumed.

IGNITION INTERRUPTERS prevent the thief from starting the engine. They can be operated by key, hidden button or toggle switch.

ALARM SYSTEMS can be sirens, bells or the car's horn. They can be activated by motion, sound or by voltage changes, such as a light in the car going on or during hot-wiring.

Whether a device is installed or not, AIC suggests parking in a well-lighted area and turning the front wheels toward the curb to prevent the car from being towed by thieves.

Shut those lights off

Could there be anything more aggravating than going out to start your car on a chilly, rainy morning only to find it just won't start? Your car can fail to start for a variety of reasons, many of which could be prevented, says the Automotive Information Council.

The most common reason for a "no start" is leaving the headlights on. Leaving the lights on for just a couple of hours can be enough to drain the battery. The use of a battery rated too small for your car can also reduce battery life and lead to starting problems.

Visual inspection of the battery and the connections from time to time can give a few clues also. Except for sealed-cell, maintenance-free batteries, the water level in the battery cells should be checked periodically. Dirty or cloudy electrolyte or excessive water usage can mean the battery needs replacing. Excessive corrosion of the terminals, frayed cables, broken hold-downs, a split cover or casing and soot on the underside of vent caps are warnings that the battery may fail.

Other forms of owner neglect can also contribute to starting problems. A loose fan belt, frequent short trips, a faulty voltage regulator or an engine that needs a tune-up can cause a "no start" situation.

cars are hot, because if you buy a used car before Dec. 23, you get a free Florida vacation thrown in the deal, and Lord knows, its hot down there! There are several options and the trip is transferable, so check it out!

Quite a place the Ford Road strip — Home of the fabulous five!

I mentioned Tri-County Auto Brokers earlier — I am embarrassed to admit that I didn't know the difference between a dealer and a broker, so I asked, and here's the answer... A broker represents the buyer, in the case of a new car, by literally shopping for him.

The Broker searches the dealers, hammers out a deal, then you transact the sale. Because he shops so much, the broker is more apt to get you a better price. The second phase for a broker is to represent you, the seller, in selling your old car. To this end, Tri-County has a consignment resale lot on Ford Road where your car is displayed. The fee for this service is $25 which is very reasonable in my opinion. So, if you're looking, or selling, call Bob or Steve at 722-3910.

I don't know how I could get the two confused, but I mistakenly credited Honda City for the Hondaline Award when in fact, it is the Hondacare Service Award. Hondaline is the registered Honda Parts name. Sorry, Mark!

In answer to my question about why used car people shy away from pricing on their vehicles, there is, of course, a rational and sane answer. And it has to do with us — the car buying public. It seems as though we tend not to remember that condition and selling price go hand in hand — so when we shop, particularly used cars, I'm told, we compare only the price, forgetting that a low price may indicate high mileage, less equipment, etc. All these things can be explained with personal contact, i.e. phone call or a personal visit. New cars have the mandatory sticker, so they avoid the problem as well as the fact that new cars cost the same to each dealer.

Fabulous Flashback — If you are near the vicinity of Red Holman at Wayne and Ford Road, be sure to swing in and see the '58 Pontiac Bonneville on the Used Car lot — if you're at all sentimental take along some Kleenex — this is a real beauty!

Well, that's this week's Wheel World — for the latest in West Wayne County car talk, look for us next week!

Spotlight Players bring 'Cabaret' to Westland Center

The Spotlight Players' production of a "Holiday Musical Cabaret" this weekend at the Westland Center will feature the musical, dancing and dramatic skills of 32 local performers under the direction of Michael Swain of Wayne.

Show times are at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the Center's Auditorium, located in the lower-level Emporium. Tickets are priced at $3 for adults and $1.75 for children.

Written by Debra Polich-Swain of Wayne, "Holiday Musical Cabaret" is a story dealing with a traditional family gathering on Christmas Eve. George, portrayed by Bob Walker of Westland, and his wife Lillian (Helen DeJulio of Westland) have grown tired of all the holiday problems and their children (Julie Lendel-Plymouth, John Walker-Westland and Tonyah Wier-Wayne) prefer a trip to the movies rather than spending Christmas Eve with the family.

Grandpa (Floyd Guernsey-Wayne), grandma (Isabell Barrett-Belleville) and Aunt Mary (Annette Aben-Gibraltar) are aware of the somber mood. In an effort to cheer everyone up, Aunt Mary sings "We Need a Little Christmas" and family members relate their favorite holiday stories.

These favorite stories are performed by cast members and include excerpts from "Scrooge," "The Story of Silent Night" and "Diary of Anne Frank;" a mime performed to "Twas the Night Before Christmas," and songs and dances such as "White Christmas," "A New Deal for Christmas," "Toyland," "March of the Toys" and "Nutcracker Ballet."

The Cabaret performance is co-produced by Debra Polich-Swain and Mary Cobello of Westland. Other members of the production staff are Diane Kemp of Belleville, stage manager; Mary Jo Cobello, Westland, choreographer; Jeanne Hoisington, Canton, vocal director; Bob Walker, Westland, set design; Gail Mack and John Eastman of Livonia, make-up; David Carrick, Westland, lights; Denise Musio, Westland, props, and Ben Kemp, Belleville, sound.

Other cast members include Kevin Baisch of Belleville; Dennis Eckhout of Inkster; Joe Haynes, Belleville; Jeremy Burzok and Jennifer Osborne of Romulus; Michelle Trame, Becky Hoisington and Carol, Candice and Rebecca Blazic, all of Canton; Rachel and Angelique Krygier and Kathleen Lendel of Plymouth, and Joel Fabian of Oak Park.

Westland residents in the cast include Alan Bennett, Betsy Dyke, Carla Lenhoff, Lorraine Parent, John Talaske and Scott Walker. Performers from Wayne are Nicole Guernsey, Jesse, John and Jeff James, Kristie and Kelly Johns, Lori Moses, Shawn Nash, Mark Renfrow and Lisa Svtkovich.

Discount on tickets are available for groups of 20 or more persons. Ticket reservations and further information can be obtained by calling 595-6117 or 729-6453.

The Westland Center is located at 25000 West Warren.

A TOOT FOR HOOT

A lot of people are hooting at Hoot MacInernys' buying the last tickets to the Lions game this Monday past, claiming that it's nothing but a publicity play for his automobile dealership. So what! Hoot has always been involved in community affairs and Hoot knows that the great majority of the people who got to see the Lions- Vikings game probably won't be seeing him for the purchase of their next new or used car.

Hoot has been instrumental in a great many charitable fund raisers that have helped many people in the tri-county area. I hope that he sells a ton of cars so he may be able to continue his good work.

SOME SPIRIT FOR THE SPIRITS

The Detroit Spirits have been trying to pump some spirit into ticket sales for their Continental Basketball Association season, which began last night at Cobo Hall. The Spirits, who won it all last year, had their problems at the gate. This year they have a new owner and a new ad company to make their pitch for them. I hope it works well for them. The effort is there.

Coming back is fifth-year coach, 31-year-old Gary Mazza, a native of Pontiac. Before returning to the Detroit area, Gary made CBA stops at Utica, N.Y. and Alberta, which is somewhere in Canada. It's always good to see a local boy do well.

They have their job cut out for them as they are the only CBA team in a NBA market. They are touting local hero, former U of D star Terry Duerod, and last year's scoring sensation Tico Brown. If you want to see some pretty decent round ball, stop by Cobo some night and see if you come away with the spirit.

WINGS ARE WIRED

The Detroit Red Wings have announced the signing of a cable TV contract which will be offered to local cable outlets. Most of the game will be road events not offered on Channel 50. Three games will be at home, one against Montreal and two against Boston. Local outlets have not been announced as of yet; if you want this package inform your cable company and tell them you're interested.

Speaking of hockey, great college action is slated at Joe Louis Arena during the holidays, as the Great Lakes Invitational presents it's 19th annual affair. This year the combatants will be Michigan State, U of M., Northern Michigan and host team Michigan Tech. Last year's championship game, in which State defeated Tech 5-3, was witnessed by the largest crowd to ever see a hockey game anywhere when 21,347 jammed the arena. Get your tickets early.

DON'T MISS MIS

The Michigan International Speedway announced plans for their opening racing season at the Detroit Sport-Broadcasters weekly lunch gathering just Wednesday. If your bag is racing and if some of your heroes have names like Foyt, Mears, Yarborough and Johncock, MIS shouldn't be missed.

HOLMES VS LITTLE JOE WHY?

What was going through Joe Frazier's mind when he decided to pit his son Marvis, a relatively inexperienced newcomer against heavyweight champion Larry Holmes. Was it the money? I hope not. Or was it his own ego that made him think that his expertise was going to make his son win? It was a gross mismatch that should not have been allowed to happen.

It's another setback for boxing and the sport's credibility. I hate to say this but the time has come for the government to step in. An autonomous body should be created to sanction all fights in the U.S., control the promoters, the fighter's records, the officiating and the purses. This committee should be made up of boxing people and should be given full control of everything that happens within the sport. Boxing is now controlled by the big-money promoters like Don King, who make a bundle without taking a single blow to the head.

GOOD LUCK BILL

The Detroit Free Press has given veteran hockey writer Bill McGraw a new assignment. Bill will be covering the Tigers beginning with the winter meeting this month. McGraw, who has been covering the Red Wings for the past several seasons wrote his last story as the Red Wings lost a tough 4-2 decision to the New York Rangers last Saturday night. We're all happy for Bill, the Tigers gain is the Red Wings loss. Good luck Bill.

Tree work

Making 19th century Christmas ornaments is part of the holiday activity featured this month at Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn. Popcorn balls, gilded nuts, egg shells and decorated gingerbread cookies are prepared in the Village's Adams House for a 19th century tree. Among the highlights of the season at the museum are performances of "The Wizard of Oz." The Victorian approach to Christmas will be presented through Dec. 31.

Timing's right for Three O'Clock

THE THREE O'CLOCK
"Sixteen Tambourines"
(Frontier)

At first glance, The Three O'Clock doesn't look like your typical rock'n'roll band of the 80s. Happily, they don't sound like it either, instead showing off a refreshing blend of power-pop (remember?) mentality, LA new music enthusiasm and a heart for the glitter era of rock they are sometimes reminiscent of.

This is the second LP from this west-coast band in less than a year's time, and the consistent quality of the tunes ("Jet Fighter," "A Day In Erotica," "Stupid Einstein") doesn't show them any the worse for the wear and tear.

To some, Michael Quercio's lyrics may seem a bit precocious at first; is it possible for someone to actually write and believe words like this in 1983?

Will she marry o tell me
I don't know at all
All I see is one so lonely
And no one cares at all

I say sure, why not? Innocence is still with us, and the world is full of unmarried marriage counselors, so what's a few more?

The band's name was taken from an F. Scott Fitzgerald quote, when they were forced to change their original moniker from the Salvation Army, under pressure of a lawsuit from the real Salvation Army.

Slick production from ex-Sparks man Earl Mankey adds to the overall depth of the recording, maybe taming former hardcore guitarist Gregg Gutierrez a little too much, but still giving them a little bit of a rough edge on the overall sound. Then again, I may be wrong. The first person I played it for remarked "Take it off, it sounds like Journey or someone..." I disagree, and pray that my tastes haven't sunk that low.

As far as the songs go, my personal favorite is "Jet Fighter" with it's Ziggy-like aura, but "Tomorrow" (great wordplay, too) and "When Lightning Starts" are right up there too. And here you go, they even do a nifty cover version of the old, old, old Bee Gee's number, "In My Own Time."

Ten songs, most of them real good, none of them bad, and all for around six dollars. Seems like a good deal to me.

WILL POWERS
"Dancing For Mental Health"
(Island)

First of all, "Will Powers" is a flimsy cover-up for famed rock shutterbug Lynn Goldsmith, and secondly, it really stinks!

Not even help from heavyweight friends like Sting, Todd Rundgren and Stevie Winwood can help this drudge, which purports itself to be a dance/self-help/exercise record.

A few years back, when Goldsmith's romance with Bruce Springsteen broke off, he refused her entrance and photo passes to his concerts. When she showed up anyway, the Boss allegedly jumped off the stage and threw her out himself.

Now, years later, THE TRUTH CAN FINALLY BE TOLD! She made him listen to one of her songs. No more, no less. If there were a rock photographer's union, I'd propose kicking her out of it.

Professional comedians coming to Schoolcraft

The Detroit Comedy Society, a group of professional comedians from the Detroit area, will bring their brand of humor to Comedy Night IV at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Schoolcraft College's Waterman Campus Center.

Sponsored by the Student Activities Office and The Last Drop Coffeehouse, the show will mark the group's fourth performance at Schoolcraft. Members of the stand-up comedy routine are Bill Thomas, Sheila Kay, Tim Lilly and Van Gunter.

"No you wouldn't want your sister to marry one of us, but we are good with children and small pets," said Thomas, the Society's ring leader. His club appearances include work in Detroit, New York and Los Angeles.

Tickets, priced at $4.50, are available at the Student Activities Office and at the door. Since alcoholic beverages will be served, no one under 18 years of age will be admitted.

Further information can be obtained by calling 591-6400, ext. 380. Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road in Livonia.

The A-Team

All-Area gridders are as tough as 'Mr. T'

There was a wealth of talent at the quarterback's position this season, and Associated Newspapers recognize that fact by naming two young men to that position on the All-Area squad. Joining Mark Quartuccio of Wayne is Mark Tindall, who manned the controls of the Plymouth Salem Rocks this autumn. Tindall, a 5-foot-10, 175 pound senior, was a dual threat from the signal caller's position. He gained 551 yards rushing in 110 attempts this year, and he added 558 yards passing on 27 completions in 64 attempts.

The senior quarterback was responsible for 14 Rock touchdowns. Six came on rushes, seven were on passing plays, and one was the result of a reception. In total, Tindall collected 1202 yards. The ultimate accolade for most high school teams in Michigan is to win their league championship. Only one area team — Westland John Glenn — achieved that goal — they were, however, forced to share the Northwest Suburban League title with North Farmington because of a late-season upset at the hands of Livonia Franklin. Plymouth Salem joins Glenn in providing the nucleus for this year's Associated Newspaper Class All-Area Offensive team. It is a team that features speed, size, a strong arm, good hands, and a strong leg. A good offensive team is only as good as its offensive line and this year's All-Area squad certainly has a line that many coaches would not be afraid to run behind. Centering this offensive line is

6-0, 190-pound Joe Czarniowski of Wayne Memorial. A good center is necessary to make an offensive line go and Zebra coach Floyd Carter feels that Czarniowski fills the bill. "Joe has good feet and he did an excellent job in blocking the middle guard, enabling us to throw the ball." Flanking Czarniowski on either side are 5-10, 165-pound senior offensive guard Chris Krebs of Belleville, 6-2, 235-pound tackle Mike Miller of Westland John Glenn, and Livonia Churchill's Dave Mize (Jr.,

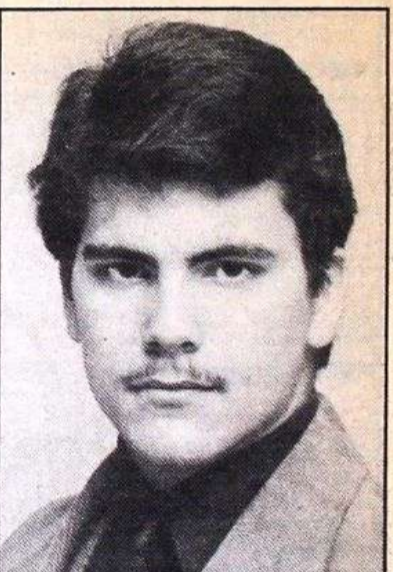

6-0, 246). Krebs, according to his coach, Mike Colletta of Belleville, is "an outstanding lineman who graded out 82 percent for the season." Krebs was partially responsible for helping his teammate, Leonard Armstrong, nearly achieve 1000 yards on the season. Miller, a three-year player for the Rockets, earned the accolades of his head coach, Chuck Gordon, for his "devastating blocking and great technique." Gordon calls him "one of the finest offensive linemen to ever have played at Glenn."

This defense can win games

The 1983 Associated Newspapers' All-Area Defensive Team is as solid as the propellant that makes a Rocket go...the John Glenn High School Rockets that is. The 7-2 Rockets allowed only 60 points and posted four shutouts enroute to the co-championship of the Northwest Suburban League. Coach Chuck Gordon's defense improved throughout the season and was a major factor in their successful season. Four good reasons were excellent performances from defensive standouts Doug Corbeil, Tom Forchione, Jim Jackary, and Dan Strehl.

Joining the four Rocket standouts on this year's All-Area squad are: Jeff Arnold (Plymouth Salem), Jim Budd (Belleville), Robert Drabicki (Livonia Franklin), Doug Kroll (Franklin), Donnie Lynn (Wayne Memorial), Doug Mac (Wayne), Dave Szary (Plymouth Canton), and Rob Tracy (Livonia Churchill). Corbeil, a 5-9, 170-pound defensive back, is a two-year starter for the Rockets. Gordon considers him a "very smart defensive player who is expected to put the team in the correct coverage." Corbeil picked off two passes, including the one that preserved the win over North Farmington that gave the Rockets a share of the league title and helped earn him All-League honors. He also was the Rockets' back-up quarterback and led the team to a victory in the Silverdome when regular quarterback Jeff Hawley was injured. Forchione also earned All-League honors after a season in which he showed "great leadership" and helped lead the Rockets to their 7-2 campaign. A 5-8, 170-pound nose guard, Forchione is the younger brother of former All-Area player Don. Gordon cited Forchione's "gutsiness and hard work" as his main attributes. Probably a good example of Forchione's "gutsiness" came in the Highland Park game when he blocked a punt and recovered the ball on the four-yard line that helped set up a Rocket score.

Jackary (5-11, 173) had a "great senior season" after being moved to defensive end during camp in August. Jackary achieved All-League status based on "a solid performance, one not marked by any mistakes." Jackary's crowning achievement came in the Wayne-Glenn game when he helped contain the Zebras passing attack and helped preserve the victory. Strehl (6-2, 195) was the Rockets' leading tackler with 208 tackle points. The senior linebacker is described by Gordon as an "intense competitor and very knowledgeable of the game." He was the key guy on our defense all season. In addition to his tackle points, he also picked off two passes. Arnold (5-9, 155) was a senior defensive back for Tom Moshim-er's Plymouth Salem squad. Arnold shared the team lead with six interceptions with Craig Morton, who made the All-Area squad as a receiver. Arnold was responsible for 12 solo tackles and 8 assists as he became the "guts and glue" of a tough Salem defense that helped make the Rocks an 8-1 team in 1983.

Belleville's Jim Budd (Sr., 5-10, 200) keyed the Tigers' defense all season long with 72 tackles and 21 assists. Budd recovered three fumbles and burst through the line for 8 sacks.

(See DEFENSE Page C-5)

Mize, a junior offensive tackle, made Churchill Coach Ken Kaestner smile a bit this season. Said Kaestner, "Dave has great strength and is a great blocker." The 246-pound player was All-League in his junior year. Running behind this offensive line would be a dream for any running back and the four young men selected to this year's All-Area squad as backs would enjoy running behind this line. Leading the way would be Salem's Scott Jurek, the Rocks' outstanding fullback. Jurek (6-2, 205, Sr.) is making his second appearance on the All-Area squad, having made it last year with a performance of 900-plus yards and 11 touchdowns. This year, he added nine more touch-

Westland's Gordon is Class A coach of the year

For the second time in three years, Westland John Glenn Rockets' head coach Chuck Gordon has been selected as Associated Newspapers Class A "Coach of the Year." Gordon, completing his seventh year as the Rockets' mentor, guided his team to a 7-2 record and a co-championship in the Northwest Suburban League. The Rockets also captured the City Championship by defeating Wayne, 19-10, in the annual Fall Classic battle. Gordon was honored to be selected ANP Coach of the Year saying: "None of this would be possible if it hadn't been for the support we receive from Tom Svitekovich (Principal) and Jerry Szukaitis (Athletic Director). Their support has been tremendous. Without them, none of this is possible." He also cited three other groups responsible for the success of the team and his personal success. "The players for their devotion to the program, the parents for their support, and the Rocket Boosters for all the support they give our program." The Rocket head coach who now sports a 45-18 record as Glenn's all-time winningest coach, has guided Rocket teams to three NWSL co-championships. Prior to being named head coach in 1977, Gordon served four years as assistant coach under former head coaches Lloyd Carr, now an assistant at Michigan, and Gerry Lutri, now an assistant at Saginaw Valley State. Gordon is also a teacher in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools. Gordon is a former All-State quarterback and defensive back at Central Lake. He played college football and earned his B.A. degree at Adrian. He later earned his Master's Degree at Eastern Michigan University. Gordon and his wife, Joyce, live in Westland and are the parents of two daughters.

This defense wins games

Livonia Franklin, last year's NWSL champion, placed two defensive players on this year's squad: Robert Drabicki (Sr., 5-9, 170) and senior defensive tackle Doug Kroll (6-0, 255). Drabicki, a senior defensive back, was one of Coach Armand Vigna's outstanding defensive players. He recovered a fumble against Glenn and returned it 25 yards for a touchdown that helped deny the Rockets an outright title. Kroll was a member of last year's NWSL championship squad and continued his fine play this year to help the Patriots' on defense.

Lynn, a 5-11, 165-pound defensive back was "the best defensive back" Carter had this season on his Wayne squad. Lynn was second-team All-League, based on his performance of 31 initial tackles and 10 assists. He also picked off three passes and caused four fumbles.

Lynn also excelled as a receiver in the Zebras offensive scheme where he snared 13 passes for 200 yards and one touchdown.

Wayne also placed defensive tackle Doug Mac (Sr., 6-0, 225) on the All-Area squad. Mac was a "quick tackle," running a 4.9:40. He had 48 initial tackles and 23 assists. He also broke through the offensive line twice to sack the quarterback. Mac was also an outstanding offensive tackle who "played with great intensity," as described by Carter.

Szary described by Plymouth Canton head coach Ronald Barr as the Chiefs' "best defensive player," was Canton's player of the week six of nine weeks. He was responsible for 16 solo tackles and recovered two fumbles. Szary (5-9, 165, Sr.) was voted All-Conference for his stellar performance.

Tracy, Linvoia Churchill's 5-8, 165-pound senior linebacker, was another player who made Coach Ken Kaestner's final season as Chargers' head coach a pleasant one. Voted All-League, Tracy had 70-first tackles, 10 assists and picked off three passes. He also recorded four sacks and played an integral part in the Chargers' 13-12 upset of defending Class A state champion Farmington Harrison.

Cardinals take playoff match

The Saginaw Valley State Cardinals won the first round of the NAIA playoffs with a victory over Central State University last Saturday, 14-13, and several local players were instrumental in the victory.

Quarterback Rusty Mandle, who played his prep football at Plymouth Salem, completed 14 of 35 pass attempts for 192 yards and a TD, and he rushed for 15 more yards.

On defense, Darryl Bartkowiak also from Salem, made two solo tackles and assisted on seven more, but his biggest play came when he intercepted a Central pass late in the game to kill a drive that may have been fatal to SVSC.

Joe Rice and Shawn Slaton, from New Boston Huron, also played well defensively. Rice had one solo and two assisted stops, and Slaton made two tackles by himself and assisted on five.

The Cardinals will play Carson Newman University in Jefferson City, Tenn. Saturday in round two of the championship series.

Glenn greets old cage coach Davis with win over Taylor

With several former members of past Rocket basketball teams in the stands, the 1983-84 Westland John Glenn basketball squad celebrated the return of Gordie Davis as head coach with a fast-paced 60-46 victory over the Taylor Center Rams.

"Definitely, we played hard. We really worked hard and were aggressive on defense. Offensively, we didn't get going until the third quarter. In the third quarter, we looked like our ball club. The team attitude and team play has been very positive," said Davis who returned as the Rockets' mentor after a four-year hiatus.

Davis, who last coached a Rocket basketball squad to a victory in March, 1979, felt "it was fun to get back." Not only did he feel confident in his team, but in the fact he had Daran Armstrong next to him on the bench as his assistant coach.

Armstrong, who completed his college eligibility at Wayne State University's basketball team last spring, played for Davis for three years and is the Rockets' all-time leading scorer (1106 points and 442 assists).

Said Davis on his assistant coach, "Daran has been a big help. He's been working with the guards, something that the guards had said had not been done before."

As for the game itself, neither the Rockets nor the Rams gave any indication of who wanted to win the game until the third quarter.

The first quarter ended 10-9 Rockets, but one could see the flashes of what kind of basketball Glenn is determined to play this season: up-tempo, push the ball up the floor, a style that is so reminiscent of past Davis-coached teams of the 1970's.

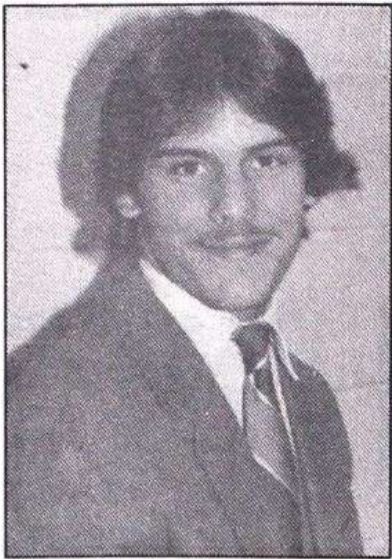

Marius Grazulis, the Rockets 6-6 center, and brother of former Rocket Paul, scored the first basket of the season for the Rockets, and set in motion a wild first period that saw the Rockets and Rams exchange the lead several times.

Taylor Center went to the free throw line several times in the downs and 821 yards on 150 carries to his already glowing statistics. In two years at Salem, he totaled 128 points and nearly 180 yards rushing.

Running with Jurek in tandem at fullback is Glenn's 6-1, 170-pound Craig Thornton, who was moved from tailback to fullback early in the season by Gordon. Described by the seven-year head coach as a 'team player and a tremendous inside threat,' Thornton tallied 582 yards on 102 carries and scored 7 touchdowns. He had three scoring runs of 40 or more yards and one of 53.

At tailback, the 1983 All-Area team boasts two fine players who have speed to burn. Belleville's Leonard Armstrong (Sr., 5-10, 180) rushed for 946 yards this past season, the highest total among area running backs. Averaging 5.9 yards per carry, Armstrong contributed seven touchdowns to his team's cause in 1983.

His running mate at the tailback position, Michael Jackson (Jr., 5-10, 165) of Wayne, had the "ability to find the crease when there wasn't one and had great quickness in change of direction." Direction he had for sure as he rushed for 600 yards on 118 carries, including a 68-yard run. Jackson also used his speed to catch 9 passes for 80 yards, including one touchdown.

Performing the quarterback duties on the 1983 All-Area team is 6-4, 190-pound Mike Quartuccio of Wayne. Described by Carter as the "best quarterback I've coached," Quartuccio completed 67 of 160 passes for 1,100 yards. He set several school passing records, including most yards passing in a career and a season. With "his strong arm and soft touch", he threw nine touchdown passes and also ran for three more scores.

Quartuccio's favorite receiver, Bob Matheney (Sr., 5-8, 160) would be one of his targets on this team. Matheney, who has 4.6 speed, had "the greatest concentration of any receiver I've ever coached," said Carter. What's amazing about Matheney is that he started the season at tailback before an injury forced him out of the line-up. Matheney came back off the injured list and started at wide receiver. He caught six passes in the Wayne-Glenn game, nearly causing the Zebras to upset the Rockets.

Quartuccio could also have a field day, completing passes to Rob Bell and Craig Morton. Bell, a 6-2, 145-pound split end, was, according to Gordon, "one of the most improved players we've ever had."

Bell caught 16 passes for 482 yards and two of them for touchdowns. He showed "tremendous difference between his junior and senior year." He caught 8 passes in 1982, and with those 16 this past season, brought his career total to 24, a new school record. His 482 receiving yards also is a Glenn record.

Salem's head coach, Tom Moshimer, also had to be smiling this season when he called a pass play. The reason for his smile is 6-0, 150-pound senior receiver, Craig Morton. He snared 20 of quarterback Mark Tindall's aeri-als for 424 yards, averaging 22 yards per catch. Morton contributed 5 touchdowns to Salem's option offense that led to an 8-11 season and a second place finish in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes League.

Every good offense is nothing without a solid kicker and the 1983 All-Area squad is certainly no different. Glenn's junior kicker, Chris Piazza (5-8, 148, Jr.) whose "consistency, strong leg, and ability to work hard," contributed much to the Rockets' success in 1983. He was successful on 17 of 18 point-after attempts and kicked a school record-tying 5 field goals. His booming kick-offs made opponents shudder and averaged nearly 48 yards per kick-off.

Jake's jolts Johnson's

It took a strong over-all performance by Jake's Lounge to mar previously undefeated Johnson's untarnished record in the Wayne-Westland Over 30 Hockey League.

Johnson's didn't go down in defeat, but they were forced to settle for their first tie of the current campaign, after 10 consecutive victories.

Jake's Lounge carded its first shutout of the season by skating to a 4-0 victory over Tastee Freez. Don Smith earned the shutout in the nets as Rich Riedel tallied for two goals; Dave Zajac scored once and received one assist, while Paul Briski accounted for the final goal. Paul Kos and Don Middaugh finished with two assists while Mike McGAW, Ken Knick and Terry Jobbitt received one assist.

Futurama exploded with four goals in the final period to secure a 9-4 decision over Family Heating. Mike Trudel led Futurama and leads the scoring leaders by rattling the net four times and picking up one assist.

Claud Johnston tallied twice and also had one assist; Jay Middaugh carried one goal and two assists with Chuck Quint and Dave Zielinski accounting for single tallies.

Finishing with assists were Jerry Tapp with three; Gene Tauriainen and Bob Capler with two while Ron Swider and Bill Brown picked up one.

Paul Cramer tallied twice for Family Heating and picked up one assist; Ron Wojewski scored once and received three assists; Nick Palise found the net for one goal and picked up one assist.

All Sorts Sports battled back in the final period to secure a 3-5 tie with Little Bill's trophies. Bob Jones carded all three goals for All Sorts with John Kunz picking up one assist. Jones final goal came with 1:02 remaining to tie the game.

Jerry Robertson tallied twice for Little Bill's with Dave Milam accounting for one goal and one assist. Bob Wood received one assist.

Johnson's Carbonic jumped to an early lead against Johnson's Bakery but five goals in the second period and four goals in the third period put the Bakery on top 10-5.

Dave Frankling logged four goals and two assists; Dale Fawkes scored twice and picked up two assists; Phil Cerne tallied for a goal and two assists; Ken Klinck rattled the net for a goal and an assist. Jim McClure accounted for one goal.

Rick Mullen finished the game with three assists while Al Pulk, George Motts, Errol Pulk, Ken Howe and goalie Jeff Faigle picked up one assist.

Tom Mazorowicz tallied three times and received one assist for Johnson's Carbonic while Ed Harmon and Darryl Nowacki had single tallies — Ron Hays' received three assists while Larry Monticello, Jim Drewry and Goalie Dan Garrett finished with one assist.

Mic-Dago Pub carded a 9-6 victory over Brock Builders as Ken Hurray tallied twice along with two assists; Jim Creekmore scored two goals and picked up one assist; Dennis Darnell, Tom Bryans and Gary Pierce logged one goal and two assists. Dave Jones and Joel Layne recorded single tallies while Roger Wodgenske received two assists. Dave Beebe and Dave Cherry picked up one assist.

Brock Builders scoring went to Rick Wolkowicz with two goals and one assist; Dennis LaPensee rattled the net once along with two assists; John Clearwood and John Colligan tallied for one goal and an assist while Ron Jacobs' accounted for one goal. Tom DiLaura received two assists while Mike Adamson picked up one assist.

period, connecting on five charity tosses and that allowed them to keep close to the Rockets.

The second quarter saw true "race horse" basketball (as one observer is fond of calling it). First the Rockets, then the Rams, took turns moving the ball upcourt. The Rams' George Gillespie contributed five points to their attack in the period.

But the Rockets, with increasing confidence and playing before a noisy home crowd, began moving the ball with authority themselves. Mike Baydarian, the 5-11 junior guard, hit for six points and Grazulis four to help their team to a 25-23 halftime lead.

Baydarian's basket with 5 minutes left in the first half gave the Rockets a lead they never relinquished.

Perhaps the biggest basket of the period, if not the game, was that scored by senior forward Todd Stein. For Stein, it was his first basket in more than a year after sitting out the 1982-83 season with a leg injury.

Davis took his team to the locker room for his first halftime strategy session in four years and what came out of it spelled curtains for the Rams.

Davis and Armstrong "tried to get the team to loosen up a bit and to get them into the flow of the game. We wanted the defense to move a little bit more before we took a shot."

Grazulis and junior forward Ron Taig combined to thwart the Rams at every opportunity on the defensive end of the floor. Grazulis, who had 16 boards on the evening, and Taig, who had half as many, keyed the Rockets fast break and helped their team to a 23-7 third quarter.

Grazulis, who Davis credited with "breaking the game open with his rebounding and scoring," in the third quarter, was a "little nervous and tense in the first half and caused his early foul trouble." Grazulis scored 12 points in the quarter and was helped out on the offensive end by senior guard Jeff Hawley with 5 points. Hawley and Craig Thornton combined on a passing play in the quarter that had the partisan Glenn fans roaring.

"Of the third quarter blitz, Davis said that his team was 'getting the ball inside better. We were more patient on our shots, and our shot selection was a little better.'"

When the fourth quarter began, the Rockets had a 48-30 lead but the Rams weren't about to give up. Led by Andra Bockwell and Gillespie, Taylor Center attempted to close the gap on the Rockets. They combined for 10 points in the quarter but it was to no avail.

Davis cleared his bench in the final stanza and Steve Henson and Dave Jensen combined for seven free throws to ice the victory.

Glenn now faces Taylor Kennedy on Tuesday and takes on league archrival Livonia Franklin on the Patriots' home floor on Friday, a game that Davis sees as important because "we need to get off to a good start in the league opener. The league is more balanced this season."

Romulus wins Belleville wrestling title

By HOWARD SCOTT
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus Eagles traveled to Belleville High School on Saturday for the ninth annual Belleville Invitational Wrestling Tournament, and came away with all the marbles, thanks to consistent performances in many weight classes.

Bruce Nigg got some points on the board for Belleville when he placed second in the 98 pound class, and Joe Mabelitni of Romulus was third.

Rodney Hay of Romulus was third, in the 112 pound division, and Chuckie Wilson also placed first in the 119 pound ranks.

The Tigers owned the 126 class, thanks to a first rate performance by Tony Sebastian, and Romulus got the points at 132 when Joe Cotton took top honors.

In the 138 and 145 pound divisions the Eagles scored sweeps. John Montroy was the victor in the lighter class, and Ray Boatright was third in 145.

A second place finish went to Bill Garland, who was wrestling at 155. His points rounded out the scoring for Romulus.

Belleville also earned points in the heavier classes when Herb Heorig placed third at 167, and Doug Chapman also was third at 185. At 198, the Tigers' Dan LaForte was second.

When all the grappling was completed, Romulus took the trophy with a total of 125 points. Saline placed next with 122, and Belleville was third with 109.

Adrian High came next with 105½ points, and 104 points earned Ann Arbor Pioneer the fifth spot. Behind them were New Boston Huron with 76, Plymouth Canton, 75½, Edsel Ford with 65 and Northville with a total of 56 points.

It was the first major tournament victory for sixth-year coach Wayne and his Eagles. And he was proud of the triumph.

"Our kids have worked hard for this," Coach said. "Our team has greatly improved over last year and the performances reflect it. I feel if we can stay away from injuries we're going to be all right this year."

Wilson, a senior, is being touted as one of the top light weights in the area. He trounced Les Harris, 10-3, to capture his gold medal. Chuckie also disposed of last year's regional qualifier, Adrian's Terry Brown, 5-4, in the semis after he had pinned Saline's Troy Tomalak.

Romulus' heavyweight Tracy Cline earned a silver after losing in the finals to Edsel Ford's stubborn senior, Bryan Masi, 7-3. The Eagles also were runner-up in the 138-pound class where Montroy lost by a 5-13 fall to Plymouth Canton's Tim Collins and Garland was forced into an overtime before losing out on the goal to Adrian's Prim Nieto in the 155-pound class.

GM gets contract

Defense contracts are contributing to the economy of Romulus. The General Motors Corp., 36501 Van Born, has received a contract to provide $99,215 worth of gear assemblies for the U.S. military services.

The large firm was awarded the contract by the Defense Construction Supply Center (DCSC) of Columbus, Ohio.

First United Methodist hosts 'Hymn Sing'

'Tis the season of... the ninth annual "Hymn Sing" which was staged recently for residents of area convalescent and retirement homes at Belleville's First United Methodist Church.

The guests who arrived at the church were helped inside by the young people of the congregation.

There they were greeted by hostesses, women of the church, and escorted to the lower level where they were seated at tables. The tables were decorated with pumpkins and dried flowers.

As the guests were coming in, Pat Touse and Gwen Ashe played piano duets.

When everyone was seated the congregation was called to worship with the singing of the hymn "Hallelu." The call to worship was followed with a greeting by Rev. George Spencer, the pastor of the church.

Hymn singing was led by Joy Dubin, Paul Smith, Ruth Pollard and Aronne Goldkette.

In between singing hymns, the guests were entertained by the chancel choir, the cherub choir, the Children's choir ensemble, directed by Gwen Ashe and the new intermediate choir, directed by Pat Touse. The church's Sacred Dance group, led by Marge Priest, danced three numbers.

The guests were helped to their cars by the hostesses and the for senior citizens and those under 12. The meal will be held at the VFW Hall, 39270 Huron River Drive.

Belleville resident is named General Motors Institute provost

Dr. William B. Cottingham, president of GMI Engineering & Management Institute, announced that Dr. Stephen R. Davis has been named Provost and Dean of the Faculty at the Institute.

Davis, a Belleville resident, will also hold the rank of Professor of Mechanical Engineering. He will have responsibility for the Library and Computer Services in addition to all academic departments: Electrical and Computer Engineering, Humanities and Social Science, Industrial Administration, Industrial and Systems Engineering, Mechanical Engineering and Science and Mathematics. Dr. Davis has been Dean, School of Engineering and Professor of Mechanical Engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology in 1973. Dr. Davis is nationally known as a leader in the engineering profession, and as an outstanding administrator. We are most pleased that he will be adding his energy and talent to the task of building an even greater GMI," said Cottingham.

Cottingham stressed that, "Dr. Davis believes in the cooperative education experience for students, a hallmark of the GMI educational program. He is also accustomed to working closely with business and industry, another strong tradition at GMI."

Davis received his BSME from Drexel University, MSME from the University of Delaware and was awarded his Ph.D. in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Illinois.

Prior to joining Lawrence Institute of Technology in 1973, Dr. Davis was the Associate Dean for Graduate Studies and Research, College of Engineering, Wayne State University. He was the Director of Technical Planning, Research and Engineering Division, Cummins Engine Company and also held engineering management positions at Ford Motor Company and Westinghouse.

Dr. Davis has been on the faculties of the University of Delaware and the University of Illinois in the Mechanical Engineering Department. He is a member of several scientific and professional societies, has published and been actively engaged as a consultant on combustion and energy management with the Department of Defense, DuPont, Cameron Iron Works, Gas Research Institute and other major companies.

Dr. Davis has won numerous engineering honors and awards including being named Michigan's Outstanding Scientist and Engineer in 1979 by the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Davis succeeds Lawrence C. Swanson who has served as Acting Provost and Dean of the Faculty since June, 1983. Swanson, who came to GMI in 1947, has served as a professor, associate dean of academic affairs, assistant vice president for business affairs, acting vice president for development, and administrative assistant to the president. Swanson will continue as a member of the President's Staff working in the Office of the President.

GMI is an accredited college of engineering and management operating on a five-year cooperative plan of education. It has an enrollment of 2,450 students pursuing bachelor degrees.

Master Lighting

Master Lighting of Canton has a bright idea for holiday gifting in this personal mini-reading lamp.

The tiny lamp is ideal for reading and will not disturb a sleeping mate. It is powered by regular current or battery and is manufactured in the United States by Electrix.

This ideal gift is priced at only $19.95 at Master Lighting 5448 North Sheldon at Ford Road, two miles west of I-275 in Canton. Store hours are from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Mondays and Wednesday, from 10 until 8 on Thursdays and Fridays and from 10 until 5 Saturdays.

All table lamps and floor lamps are now on sale until Christmas at Master Lighting with savings up to 25 percent on beautiful brass, ceramic and hand-blown glass lamps.

Vicki Hiller at Master Lighting shows off the mini-reading lamp.

Pat Feight and Emroy Robbins are thoroughly enjoying every opportunity to display the new Technics organ which folds into the trunk of a car.

The portable organs, which are reasonably priced, will fold to travel anywhere. Feight, the owner of Keyboard World, noted. She and Robbins are eager to show off the unique capacities of the 125-pound musical instrument and Feight has invited everyone to stop by the Michigan Avenue store for a demonstration.
